RAILROAD RECORD.

NO PROOF OF COMBINATION.

Court of Appeals Reverses Coal Case Verdict.

Finds no Violation of Sherman Anti-trust Law.

New Trial of Suit Against Roads Ordered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Nov. 19.—Judge Walter H. Sanborn in the United States Circuit Court of Appeal handed down an opinion today, setting aside the verdict and ordering a new trial in the case of the United States against the Union Pacific Coal Company, the Union Pacific Railway, the Oregon Short Line Railway, James M. Moore and Everett Buckingham, in which they are charged with having violated the Sherman anti-trust law by forming an unlawful combination.

While the suit was brought in the name of the United States, proceedings were started by a Salt Lake City coal dealer named Sharp, who charged the coal company and the defendant railroads with having refused to sell and haul coal for him. Sharp charged that the Union Pacific Coal Company refused to sell him coal and that the railroads refused to haul the commodity because he advertised and sold coal at a less figure than his competitors.

Judge Sanborn, in his opinion, holds that there is substantial evidence of any combination between any two of the defendants, either to refuse to coal to Sharp, or to refuse to transport it for him.

DEFINES "COMBINE."

The lower court found the defendants guilty of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and imposed a fine of $100 and costs on Moore and $300 and costs on the other defendants. The opinion of the Circuit Court of Appeal is contained in the syllabus as follows:

"The test of an unlawful combination under the act of July 2, 1890, is its necessary effect upon free competition in commerce among the States, or with foreign nations.

"A combination, the result of which is to stifle, or directly and substantially to restrict, such competition, is unlawful under that act, but if the necessary effect of a combination is but incidentally and indirectly to restrict competition while its chief result is to foster the trade and increase the business of those who make and operate it, it does not fall under the ban of this law.

"A coal company engaged in mining and selling its coal is not prohibited by the anti-trust act, or by the law, from refusing to sell its coal from selecting its customers from among the principals and terms on which it will sell its product, or from selling to different persons and on different terms.

STOCKHOLDERS NOT LIABLE.

"A violation of a law by a corporation does not render its non-participating stockholders criminally liable therefore.

"Unless there is substantial evidence of facts which exclude every other hypothesis but that of guilt, it is the duty of the trial court to instruct the jury to return a verdict for the accused.

"And where all the substantial evidence is as consistent with innocence as with guilt, it is the duty of the appellate court to reverse a judgment of conviction."

In conclusion the court says:

"There was no substantial evidence of any combination between any two of the defendants, either to refuse to sell coal to Sharp, or to refuse to transport it for him."

"A combination between a corporation and its officer or agent, or violation of the anti-trust act, cannot be formed by the thoughts or acts of the officer or agent alone without the conscious participation of the corporation.

"The union of two or more persons, the conscious participation of two or more minds, is indispensable to an unlawful combination."

NOVEL TRACK LAYING.

RAILS LAID ON GROUND.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

ALTHEAS, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Nevada-California-Oregon Railway has taken a rather convincing way of announcing its intention to immediately extend its track northward toward Lakeview. It has begun work and is laying track along its right of way north from this city. More than one half mile of the track has been laid and work will proceed on every day that it is possible to do that sort of construction. No grading and ballasting has been done so far, the ties being laid on the top of the smooth ground and the rails spiked to them. A team shovel will be used to supply material for ballasting and leveling the track.

OROVILLE WINS.

TO GET RAILROAD SHOPS.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

OROVILLE, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John J. Hamlin, chairman of the Western Pacific shops and the terminal committee, announced today that the committee has made an agreement with the Truckee Lumber Company for bringing its mills and factories to this city, and furthermore, that arrangements have been completed with the Western Pacific to complete its division terminal and shops at Oroville.

The shop and terminal site cost the residents of this city about $15,000 besides the personal expenses and time of the committee. The lumber mill site has been secured on a seventy-acre tract south of town. Oroville agrees to furnish the site and water free. Land owners have been so fair to the committee that the site will cost about $2000 only. Deeds for both enterprises have been placed in escrow for fulfillment of the promises to the people of Oroville.

His wife, Mrs. Anna, the Potomac's North Corps, died in the Potomac, Md., November 18, 1907, and her death certificate shows she died of consumption.

GREATEST SHAKE-UP.
LOEB IS STILL CLEANING UP.

New York Collector Dismisses Deputy.

Seventy-three Removed in Nine Months.

The Investigations Will Be Continued.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—We are in the midst of the greatest shake-up in the history of the United States customs department," said William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York, tonight, when shown Secretary MacVeagh's summary of the work thus far accomplished in cleaning up the New York customhouse.

"More employees have been dismissed from the New York service since I took charge than in the entire previous history of the service, and we are through with it. We are going to keep at it until the New York customhouse is made thoroughly respectable."

Among those dismissed today was James N. Vail, deputy collector.

"I have been made the scapegoat," said Vail. "Not only have I been an absolute failure in my government service, but I have been failing during the twenty-two years I have been in its service, but it is known fact that while I was at the head of the weighing department, I ferreted out the original fraud."

He has been removed, today, the removal of seventy-three officials and attaches of the weighing and other divisions of the customs service here.

The collector stated that since March 9 last, the day he took office, he has removed from the service for irregularities in the weighing department, eighteen other officials, six of whom are now under indictment.

In other branches of the service he has removed for cause thirty-six officials, making the total number of removals from the service since March 4, seventeen.

In connection with the dropping of Deputy Surveyor Vail, Collector Loeb said:

"The collector has no proof, nor have Special Assistant Attorneys-General Stimson or Smith any corruption on my part, but he was in charge of the weighing division during the time the extensive underweighting frauds were perpetrated, and the fact that such conditions could exist in his department warrants his separation from the service on the grounds of negligence and incapacity."

Collector Loeb, in making today's announcements, added significantly: "The collector is continuing his investigations."

James F. Vail was formerly deputy manager of the weighing division, and was some months ago a deputy collector.

During the trial last month of Phillip Musica, convicted of conspiracy in securing underweights of cheese imports, Vail was called in as the sharpshooter of the government, and Musica's statement stand.

Vail denounced Musica's statement and recently legal investigators announced that they found nothing to bear it out.

WILL PUNISH ALL GUILTY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19.—Att'y Gen. Wickham, in discussing the government's attitude in the investigation of alleged customs frauds in the collection of sugar duties, said:

"The object of the investigation is twofold. We are going to recover, as far as possible, all the back dues due here, with interest, and secondly, we are to ascertain who are guilty of frauds, whoever they may be, in order that they may be punished."

"There is not much to be said about the investigation now, because it is still going on, and we don't know where it will end. But I can tell you that it is going to be as thorough and as effective as the machinery at my disposal can make it," added the Attorney-General decisively.

"What will be the attitude of the government toward wealthy manufacturers if the investigation is over?" he asked.

"A manufacturer is a malefactor, and anybody who is found to be implicated in any fraud against the government will be prosecuted, no matter how high up he may be," Mr. Wickham answered.

NO MORE IMMUNITY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The elimination of customs service, will be the abolition of that office in the New York customhouse, the dismissal of 104 men and demotion of 123 other men at New York from March 4 up to last night, together with about a score of other changes included in Collector Loeb's statement today from New York, announced yesterday by Secretary MacVeagh.

There will be no further grants of immunity in the customs investigations at New York, Secretary MacVeagh told the press, following the assurance he received this morning when he was in New York conferring with Collector Loeb. Mr. Loeb, the Secretary said, assured him that there would be no further occasion for it; that they had accomplished what was needed by the immunity previously promised.

IMPORTANT CHANGES PROPOSED IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE LAW.

Atty.-Gen. Wickersham Outlines Modifications Suggested by President to Obtain Reasonableness of Rates and Fairness of Practices in Railway Operation—Advocates National Incorporation Regulations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19.—Modifications of the interstate commerce act to obtain reasonableness of rates to all, and fairness of practices in the operation of interstate railroads were suggested by George W. Wickersham, Attorney-General, in an address tonight at the annual banquet of the Commercial Club, given in commemoration of the signing of the John Hay commerce treaty.

Mr. Wickersham responded to the toast, "The Interstate Commerce Commission."

Mr. Wickersham advocated a national incorporation law, and said that should such a law demonstrate its value, it might be wise ultimately to prohibit State corporations from engaging in interstate commerce.

"For the purpose," said Mr. Wickersham, "of preventing the conflict of decisions and delays and uncertainties in the enforcement of the interstate law which now exists, it is proposed to create a special tribunal to be known as the Commerce Court, in which shall be exclusively vested all the jurisdiction now possessed by the Circuit and District courts, and the Circuit Courts of Appeals of the United States with respect to the enforcement or review of orders and decrees of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS.

"To remove the commission from the position of prosecutor or litigant, it is proposed that all proceedings to enforce or defend orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission be conducted by the Department of Justice.

"Further suggestions of the President are that the interstate commerce act be amended as follows:

"By providing that the commission be specifically empowered to review classifications both as to item, and grouping.

"By providing that, whenever a new rate or classification is fixed, the commission may, by order, postpone the date when it is to take effect, provided that within thirty days after the date of such order (a.) a complaint be filed against such rate or classification, or (b.) the commission shall institute an inquiry into the reasonableness of the rate or classification.

"By providing that the commission may suspend, modify, or annul any changes in regulations that impose undue burdens on shippers.

"By providing that the commission may proceed either on its own motion or upon complaint filed with it.

SPECIAL POWER.

"By specifically empowering the commission on the application of one carrier or of an individual or, at the instance of the commission itself, to compel connecting carriers to unite in forming a through route and in fixing the rate and the apportionment thereof among the carriers.

"By providing that it shall be lawful for carriers to unite in fixing a rate providing the same be published and filed, the question of the reasonableness of such rate to be subject to the other provisions of the act in like manner as any other filed and published rate; the agreement, however,

FIND BABY BURNED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

INDIANA HARBOR (Ind.), Nov. 19.—The screams of children who were locked in a blazing house caused neighbors to rush to Mrs. John Korn's residence, here, today. When they had broken in the doors, a baby girl had perished in her cradle, and her little brother was perhaps fatally burned. The boy, 3½ years old, had been tied to a doorknob by his mother to prevent him playing with matches. He did not get the matches, but fire fell from the stove.

THANKSGIVING DINNERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Fifty carloads of turkeys, one million pounds, valued at $60,000, this is the chief item of Chicago's Thanksgiving dinner, and for that item alone, he will spend $40,000 more than last year. Besides, there will be an abundance of domestic chickens, ducks and geese, and about as large a quantity of pheasants, mallard ducks, quail and partridges, a portion of beef, mutton and venison, besides the unusual beef, pork and mutton, all of which will cost anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent more than last season. overnment, which will not for one moment tolerate such treatment of American citizens."

This is a pronouncement to the Central and South American governments in particular that care must be exercised in their treatment of questions affecting American individuals and American interests.

There is a grimness about the attitude of State Department officials which does not usually attach to the adjustment of diplomatic questions.

The department is determined to go to the bottom of this affair.

KNOK EXPLAINS STATUS.

A further interpretation of the recognition of the belligerency of the revolutionaries was made this afternoon by Secretary Knox, in response to inquiries from various merchants doing business with Atlantic ports. To each has been repeated the announcement of last night, with this addition:

"The safety of a ship going to a port which is closed or blockaded in fact or in theory is a question for the interested parties to determine and act on and not a question of determination by the officials concerned in clearing."

It is believed that before tomorrow night the department will be in complete possession of all information relating to the two Americans as well as the progress made by the insurgents, the attitude of the Nicaraguan government, and detailed aspects of the entire situation, only from the American deputy consul and a chemical analysis for traces of strychnine to be made.

There is a possibility that President Zelaya of Nicaragua may attempt further high-handed action toward the United States and show his contempt of President Taft's refusal to receive the new Nicaraguan Minister by giving the American consul at Managua his passport before he can act further.

THE SISTER OF DEAD MAN HAS HIS WIDOW ARRESTED.

Chemical Analysis for Traces of Strychnine Will Be Made to Ascertain Whether or Not William J. Eder of Missouri Was Poisoned, Druggist Gives Clew.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Deputy Coroner Henry Fath today ordered that the body of William J. Eder be exhumed at Fee Fee Cemetery in St. Louis county tonight and a chemical analysis for traces of strychnine be made.

This action was taken after a conference with Miss Kate Eder, who returned today from Columbus, Neb., where she caused the arrest of Mrs. Doris Doxey, and Dr. Loren Bassett, living there as man and wife on a statutory charge. Miss Eder identified Mrs. Doxey there as the woman who was married to her brother, William J. Eder, at Clayton, St. Louis county, Mo., last April.

Mrs. Doxey is quoted today at Columbus that she was never Eder's wife. Miss Eder told Deputy Coroner Fath that she had learned from a druggist at Columbus, Neb., that he had mailed strychnine, arsenic and other poison to Mrs. William J. Eder, St. Louis, before July 10, when Eder died; that Mrs. Doxey admitted she had given Eder strychnine, but claimed it was treatment ordered by a physician.

Dr. Arthur Friedberg, who attended Eder, said her today that strychnine is a heart stimulant, but never in sufficient quantity to cause death; that Eder's wife, who nursed Eder in his last illness, protested against an autopsy, suggested by physicians as a result of Eder's death, commented:

"Mrs. Eder claims Mr. Doxey was married to her present husband five years before she met Eder, and that while living here with Eder she made an alleged trip to Des Moines, Iowa, during which absence she was seen in Columbus. Not living with Doxey, Mrs. Doxey is alleged to have collected $2500 life insurance on Eder.

CANNON'S PARENTS ASK CONFIRMATION.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

HARRISBURG (Pa.), Nov. 19.—Daniel K. Cannon, son of Senator George W. Cannon, the nationally known Senator George W. Cannon, has been appointed collector of customs to the El Paso district, with headquarters at El Paso.

"We only know what we read in the papers and hope Washington can tell us something," said the young man's mother. "Mr. Cannon and I, if the boy is dead, will try to have the body sent here. We hope the government can help us to get it."

Miss Cannon said she had received no word from her son that he had taken part in any revolutionary uprising such as is contained in letters received here by school friends of the young man. These letters came from Honolulu and stated that Cannon was in that republic in August and September because of President Zelaya's enmity toward him.

MAYOR GETS EVEN.

WICHITA (Kan.), Nov. 19.—That Count Heinrich Bondehender, a member of an old Bavarian family, has been working here since last spring as private secretary to A. H. Webb, chairman of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, has been officially confirmed by the State Department.

Alfred L. Sharp, the present collector, has had no support of the El Paso county and State Republican organization, as well as a good record, which has been approved by the Treasury Department, to support his candidacy for reappointment.

HURRICANE SWEEPS LISBON.

LISBON, Nov. 19.—A hurricane struck this city today, causing considerable damage. No loss of life is definitely reported, though it is said a fishing vessel is swamped.

CORSAIR IN DANGER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Fire on board J. P. Morgan's steam yacht Corsair, undergoing repairs at the shipyard in Hoboken, killed a steward and a woman a fiery fight today. It was conjectured that the vessel carried any arms or ammunition.

SAILS WITH CARGO OF ARMS FOR ZELAYA.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—With many rumors afloat as to its cargo and mission, the steamer Imperator of the Bluefields Steamship Company, sailed from New Orleans today for Atlantic Coast ports of Nicaragua. It is persistently rumored that it is bound immediately for Greytown to conduct its operations with the troops of President Zelaya.

Steamship company officials, however, deny the vessel carried any arms or ammunition.

ZELAYA IMPRISONS THOUSAND ENEMIES.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PANAMA, Nov. 19.—Passengers arriving here from Nicaragua report President Zelaya has severed relations with José de Ovando, and that the latter's home at Managua is guarded day and night. There are 1000 men who have been imprisoned at the capital, either because they were suspected of disloyalty or had refused to contribute to the war tax. The story told by these people in substance is as follows:

More than 1000 persons have been imprisoned in the penitentiary at Managua, including Congressmen, the military commanders of Grenada and Rivas and many other prominent persons.

President Zelaya has severed relations with the Liberals of Managua, including José Delores, Aurelio Estrada and ex-Minister Gomez, toward all of whom he is particularly animistic and the American Consul, Olivares.

The home of these men is guarded day and night.

No one is permitted in the vicinity of the military barracks or near Zelaya's residence, where he is guarded by 1000

PLAN SANITARIUM.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Twenty-five prominent physicians and surgeons of Chicago met last night at the Chicago Athletic Club and launched a plan for the establishment of one of the largest sanitaria in the world. This proposed institution will be used exclusively for those suffering from tuberculosis who, while not poor enough to accept aid from State or county institutions, are not able to provide for the travel and care they need. An effort will be made to limit admissions to cases which give promise of cure.

All Nicaraguans have been called to arms, many are leaving the mountains. Zelaya has exacted war contributions amounting to nearly $1,000,000. All who refuse to pay the tax are immediately imprisoned. Many persons have been killed by the soldiers during disorders that occur daily in the towns.

MANY TROOPS ARE DESERTING ZELAYA.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

BLUEFIELDS, Nov. 19.—Wires to the interior are down, and it is impossible to confirm the report that President Zelaya had ordered the execution of the Americans, Leroy Cannon and Leon Leland Green.

The blockade of Greytown remains effective, and the rebels are strengthening their position continually.

It is reported that Zelaya's troops are deserting in large numbers. The fear of a rebel invasion of the interior has influenced Zelaya to mobilize his forces there. A serious movement against the eastern coast at present is unlikely.

Chemical Analysis for Traces of Strychnine Will Be Made to Ascertain Whether or Not William J. Eder of Missouri Was Poisoned, Druggist Gives Clew.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—(Exclusive Dispatch) Gen. E. J. Eder, of Missouri, was arrested this morning at Fee Fee Cemetery in St. Louis county, Mo., and his widow, Mrs. William J. Eder, was held captive by the police.

Mr. Ballinger also made response to a charge that, in granting rights of way to Hill and Harriman railroads, through the Des Chutes Cañon, in Oregon, he had rendered impossible the construction of a power plant in the cañon.

Admitting that the department had given its approval to the applications, Mr. Ballinger said that, in granting rights of way to Hill and Harriman railroads, through the Des Chutes Cañon, in Oregon, he had rendered impossible the construction of a power plant in the cañon.

This action was taken after a conference with Miss Kate Eder, who returned today from Columbus, Neb., where she caused the arrest of Mrs. Doris Doxey, and Dr. Loren Bassett, living there as man and wife on a statutory charge.

Apperson and Isotta to Set Pace in Fifty.

Fair weather is to favor the automobile racers at Ascot Park today, according to the weather man. The track is closed until noon, as it is necessary to keep the scrapers constantly running over the surface, which has been bopped by the practicing machines. Early yesterday morning teams were the San Mateo Club at San Mateo, to Morrissey. Standard has never before been represented by a team, but the team will make its first public appearance in the match, with San Mateo. Contests with other teams about the bay are being arranged. E. E. Bailey, '12 of Encino, is one of the most brilliant players on the team.

FITZ TO FIGHT IN AUSTRALIA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Nov. 19.—It was announced here today that "Bob" Fitzsimmons and "Bill" Lang had agreed to fight in Australia on December 27 for the championship of Australia, now held by Lang.

Lang won the title by defeating Bill Squires at Melbourne on October 25. Squires was knocked out in the twentieth round.

Fitzsimmons recently arrived here from the United States.

NO COMPLAINTS.

ATELL AGREES WITH WEBSTER.

SETTLE WEIGHT QUESTION FOR THEIR COMING BOUT.

Each Boy Puts in Strenuous Day in Training and is Practically Ready to Enter the Ring—Frankie Conley Has Been Promised Battle With the Winner.

Danny Webster and Monte Attell settled the weight question yesterday, and the terms of their former contest were placed in the articles as signed by Eddie Webster and Harry Foley, representing the principals. The weight is to be 115 pounds at 3 o'clock, and a side bet of $200 is on, the gold and diamond belt given by T. J. McCarey also being handed over to the winner of the ten-round contest which is scheduled for McCarey's Pavilion for next Tuesday evening.

Webster put in a busy day doing road work on the morning and boxing ten rounds at the East Side gym in the afternoon, with Kid Rees four with Frankie Sullivan and four with Frankie Harris. He stopped lively in all of the sessions and seemed fit to go into the ring to battle for the bantam title.

Attell did similar tramping, staying out for an hour yesterday morning.

In the afternoon he appeared at Doyle's camp, and, after using the apparatus, donned the gloves and boxed three hot rounds with Billy Cappelle, and there was nothing tame in the exhibition, Cappelle taking all the punishment offered and going after more each round. It was great work for both of the boys and placed them well toward condition for their respective fights Tuesday evening.

The full card as finally arranged is as follows:

Danny Webster and Monte Attell, ten rounds, 115 at 3 o'clock.

Frankie Sullivan and Billy Cappelle, ten rounds, 122 at 3 o'clock.

Frankie Cleveland and Buddy King, six rounds.

Kid Rees and Gene McGovern, six rounds.

Chester Moss and Joe Livermore, four rounds.

Frankie Conley, who came down from San Francisco with the intention of getting on with the winner of the Webster-Attell go, has been assured by each of the bantams that he will be given a fight on some December date at McCarey's pavilion for the title. Conley is due some light training and will be in shape when the time comes for him to show himself.

Charles Norval and Al Rogers, through their managers, yesterday agreed on a light schedule for November 30 as the semi-wind-up of the Willis-Geyer contest, as they could not agree on weight. Doc Jeffery claiming that he did not want Norval to meet a welter. Palmer, for Rogers, asked that the weighing be done at 10 o'clock in the morning.

POWELL THE FAVORITE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ad. Wolquist, Milwaukee lightweight, who made short work of Henri Piet in New Orleans, arrived today and began training this afternoon for his fight with the lightweight champion of the Coast, Lev Powell. The odds are 10 to 5 with Powell the favorite, but the bookies don't think he will change before Friday night, when the two men are to fight twelve rounds at the Coliseum in this city. It is an important bout, as it will settle who has the right to challenge Baldwin for the lightweight championship. Powell has a decided advantage in height and weight.

OPENING DAY, CARD.

The entries for the six races are as follows:

CINCINNATI RACES.

OLD NIMBUS IN FRONT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Nimbus had an easy time winning the feature race today from Tom Hayward. He assumed the lead early and the result never was in doubt.

An upset occurred in the third race, when Sir Ormrod defeated G. M. Miller by a length. Results:

Five and one-half furlongs: Seven Full, won; Olivia Melkie, second; Maisie Hurley third; time, 1:08 1-5.

One and one-sixteenth miles: Robert Cooper won; Dr. Dowdle second; Cull third; time, 1:48 4-5.

Seven furlongs: Sir Ormrod won; O. M. Miller second; Belle Clem third; time, 1:28.

Mile: Nimbus won; Tom Hayward second; Martin Doyle third; time, 1:41 3-5.

Six furlongs: Tom Holland won; Firehall second; Ethelde third; time, 1:18 3-5.

One and one-quarter miles: Lady Esther won; Mamie Algot second; Maid Militant third; time, 2:07 2-5.

The Louisiana championship race will be run during the afternoon. This event is for equipped cars, tops being removed if desired. John Walker, in a Buick, W. C. Irwin, in a Thomas, H. C. Nichols, in a Ford, C. W. Murphy, in a Packard, an Oldsmobile, U. J. Vigrum's Reo, and Dr. J. W. Newman's Stoddard-Dayton will start.

The big race of the day will be at 4 p.m. and in it the stars of the auto world will compete—John Atkin and Guy Irwin.

Twenty-mile race for electric—Fritzsche, Catman, driver; Fritzsche, Harris, driver.

Fifty-mile Derby—Apperson, Harris, Hanchuk; Isotta, Frank Free; Palmer-Singer, Frank Siebert; Chadwick, Kennedy; Corbin, Livingston; Cadillac, W. H. Carlson, Jr.; Sunbeam, McCarley; Franklin, Guy Irwin.

TENNIS AT HOLLYWOOD.

Play to Begin Today in First of the Matches—To Conclude Thanksgiving Day.

Play is to begin in the Hollywood Thanksgiving tennis tournament at 1 o'clock this afternoon. As many matches of the men's doubles as can be played before dark will be run off the list.

In the preliminary round Pitcairn and Bullock are to meet Dietrich and Lacy, Seitschus and Cheney are to play Sheldon and partner, Keeney and partner are to play Bingham and partner. All the other thirteen teams entered have drawn byes and will not meet until the preliminaries are played off.

Among the strongest teams entered are Simsbaugh and Browne, Bundy and Duncan, Holmes and Freeman, and Bell and Way, and Macie.

The best chance of the afternoon should be between Holmes and Freeman and Bundy and Way. If these teams meet in the second round, as seems likely, Bundy and Duncan will probably meet Herd and Macie before the afternoon is over. As far as the matches go, it may not materialize.

Another third-round match that seems likely is that between Simsbaugh and Browne and the winners of the Holmes-Freeman and Bell-Way match of the second round.

As far as the ability of the players to hold their own goes, there is one series of matches, it has been decided that the men's singles will have to be cut out. This will mean a big loss as interest usually centers in the big singles matches; with the men's and women's doubles and ladies' singles however, there will be plenty of good tennis played to insure a successful tournament. The ladies' singles will be started next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., while the mixed doubles will all be run off Thanksgiving Day.

The first set of matches for the men's doubles with the drawings is:

Douglas and Wayne, bye; Gorham and Eastman, bye; Bundy and Duncan, bye; Belden and Shook, bye; Herd and Macie, bye; Braly and Henry, bye; Bingham and partner, bye; Sheldon and Bullock play Dietrich and Lacy; Simsbaugh and Browne, bye; Salisbury and McFarland, bye; Weiler and partner, bye; Hopper and Varrel, bye; Holmer and Freeman, bye; Myers and Johns, bye; Bell and Way, bye.

Yale and Pomona both went through light practice yesterday, after it was final practice for the big game today, which is to be decided at Claremont at 2:30 o'clock.

The "Occidental Special," which is to carry the "Yale Special" to the coast, starts to seashore busk town, is scheduled to leave the Santa Fe depot at 12:15 o'clock. About 500 students of the Presbyterian College, with unabated enthusiasm, are expected to ride on the rear.

Commencement honors are the stakes of the game today, and not in several hours have predictions of the outcome been varied. Pomona played the most skillfully yesterday, and the Yale team, which has been described as the best in the country, will be the favorite.

SO LONELY.
NE MAN SAYS NO TO UNION.

st of Hollywood in Favor of Consolidation.

Viking Vote Announced at Public Meeting.

ill Join Los Angeles as Soon as Possible.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—One lone voice against the consolidation of Hollywood and Los Angeles was cast at night's meeting held in Wilcox Auditorium. The gathering was as large as any public meeting ever held here. Representative men and men from every section were present, and the sentiment was in favor of consolidation as soon as possible. E. Hampton, president of the Board Trade, presided and introduced as first speakers members of the committee which has been busy consulting Angeles authorities in regard to effect of the movement on local institutions. Each report was a most satisfactory nature. Mayor Chaplin, who told particularly of the work of this committee, said in conclusion, that the City Trustees were putting the public business in shape for consolidation. All street car likely to be thought of for the next two years was being rapidly advanced, so as to be under way so that work may go on uninterrupted or consolidation is perfected.

G. Somers, for the library board, E. A. Merrill for the school board, reported pleasant relations with both boards in Los Angeles.

Willo Beverage spoke especially of the Los Angeles daily papers, considering it a matter for congratulation. He said that so far as he knew there was only one man in Hollywood who did not favor consolidation.

Joseph Scott, president of the Los Angeles Board of Education, outlined some of the conditions relating to the movement of San Pedro and Washington with Los Angeles and commented Hollywood on its coming high school.

Probably the most interest-exciting thing was over the remarks made by Dr. E. O. Palmer, local attorney, who for the first time spoke of the conditions here concerning the division of power between the largest public institutions here, said, has its sewage hauled away wagon after it has been deposited a sort of immense cistern, and never carries all its waste water over a hill to the ocean. One city lot 160 wide contains seven cesspools, and some lots there is no more room to dig cesspools and the city has permission to allow some make-shift to meet a situation.

This is the most serious question confronting this section, and is one that will be met at the meeting.

Two motions carried with but one dissenting vote, first that it be the law of the meeting that Hollywood consolidate with Los Angeles as soon as possible, and second, that the city, school and library trustees be urged to advance the public business as rapidly as possible, and do everything in

WANT DEATH INVESTIGATED.
Friends of Miss Glendells Ask for Police Probe—Her Brother Here Notified.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
WEBSTER (Mass.) Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Friends of Miss Sophia Glendells have asked for a police investigation of the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death of the young woman at Athol, Mass. They have also communicated with the girl's brother, Charles Glendells of Los Angeles, and informed him of their suspicions.

One of Miss Glendells' girl friends forward today and offered information which may be of assistance in the affair seem necessary. She says Miss Glendells told her she expected to become a mother in April.

William Batolis, a close friend of the unfortunate girl, says, "I am convinced that the manner of Miss Glendells' death should be carefully investigated."

HUGE MERGER IS PROBABILITY.

RAILROAD MEN INTERESTED IN HAWLEY PLANS.

Scheme of Magnate Would Combine Into One System Roads Covering Twenty-five Thousand Miles—Yokum Will Leave Rock Island to Accept High Position.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This afternoon's Post Dispatch says: Well-informed St. Louis financiers, railroad men and brokers are discussing with deep interest a widely-circulated report that Edwin Hawley is organizing a $500,000,000 holding corporation, to include the St. Louis and San Francisco, Chicago and Alton, Missouri; Kansas and Texas, Chesapeake and Ohio, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, Iowa Central, Colorado Southern, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific companies. These roads have a total of more than 25,000 miles, reaching from Minneapolis, on the Northwest, to Kansas City, Chicago, Newport News and Galveston.

The transcontinental system also will be formed by a traffic agreement with the James J. Hill road interests, with which Hawley is closely identified.

If the Hawley holding plan is realized railroad men believe that R. F. Yokum will retire from the chairmanship of the Rock Island-Frisco system and become identified with the more important corporation.

For years Yokum has been absolute dictator of the Frisco and Rock Island, and so far as their operation is concerned, A. J. Davidson was pushed up from an humble position to the presidency by Yokum, and C. R. Gray, who will immediately succeed him if he will succeed him, was promoted by Yokum from division superintendent to first vice-president in a few days.

Yokum is to resign from the Rock Island-Rock Island and the Frisco-Rock Island is set made a part of the Hollywood community of interest.

St. Louis railroad men are disposed to believe that both Gray and Davidson eventually will appear in some high capacity in the Hawley lines and that there will be a complete reorganization.

HERDS OF ELKS IN STAMPEDE.

LODGES ATTEND RECEPTION OF RIVERSIDE MEMBER.

Crack Drill Team from Los Angeles Spectacular Feature of Dazzling Parade—Many Delegates—First Member of First Lodge is Honored Guest—Banquet and Festivities.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES:
RIVERSIDE, Nov. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Elks from the various lodges of Southern California gathered here tonight to attend a reception given at the Victoria Clubhouse in honor of Prof. A. N. Wheeler of Riverside Lodge No. 43, who has been made District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler for this jurisdiction.

The parade, which preceded the reception was a spectacular one, with banners and flags flying and red fire along the line of march. A special Salt Lake train bearing 300 members of the lodges of Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Pedro, Long Beach, Pomona and Ontario arrived shortly before 7 o'clock, the Los Angeles representatives including the crack drill squad in brown fatigue uniforms.

The San Diego lodge sent a delegation of 125, with banners boasting the Panama-California Exposition in 1915. They, with thirty-five Elks from Escondido and Orange, arrived on a special Santa Fe train. The trip of the San Diego Elks was enlivened by music on a camp organ, played by C. W. Oesting. This led the singing of relishing Elke songs. The San Diego delegation was in charge of Carl Heald.

"It would have been a half way when I found a door, used to regulate the air currents, closed. The door was arranged to swing toward me.

"It would not open because three or four men had fallen in front of it. I tried to open the door again. Other men had run behind me, some falling in their tracks; I soon saw that we were hopeless and started to return. Scores of other miners were filling the gallery and choking up the doorway beyond any hope of its ever being opened.

SAVED BY HIS BROTHER.

"The weak ones who came last fell over those still struggling with the door and all finally fell in a heap as the smoke grew thicker. Those who had remained near the air shaft caught me. I said, 'Don't go to the right; they're all dead down that way.' He then led me through the outer gallery in which the doors opened outward and we escaped to the hoisting shaft. I am sure they will find a hundred or more bodies piled up at that door in the right gallery."

The burial of the dead is a problem. Coroner Malm announced that, because of limited facilities, no corps would be held more than twenty-four hours after removal from the mine.

Bodies not identified within that time will be buried.

In a letter to Gov. Denner today, Representatives W. J. McGuire of Kennewick and William J. Scanlon of Peru asked that a special session of the Legislature be called to appropriate $25,000 for the survivors of the disaster.

The coroner had added act of the St. Paul mine to the recovery and attempted identification of the dead—begin today.

The sad prospects for the day began to come when firemen spread a canvas on the prairie beyond the main shaft. The first three bodies which were the first to be brought out were laid.

The greatest danger from influenza is its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cold Remedy.

MINE CATASTROPHE.

geological Survey said he had no such hope. "It is true," he said, "that long periods of imprisonment in a mine have been endured, but conditions in those cases were more favorable than here. I believe there is no chance of recovering any one alive."

Tonight men with huge baskets tramped through the unlighted streets making final deliveries of supplies to widows and orphans.

According to a story told to Joseph H. Nicholl, representing the Italian Consul, a condition existed in one part of the mine which suggested the Iroquois Theater fire at Chicago.

CLOSED DOOR BRINGS DEATH.

Giuseppe Lotti, a miner, said that when escaping through the smoke and flames he discovered scores of bodies that had been piled up in front of a door, which, if it could have been opened, would have afforded a way to safety. Lotti's story follows:

"When I heard the alarm of fire I ran to the air shaft and saw that it was filled with smoke. From the air shaft two galleries extended in opposite directions. They are circular and meet again at the hoisting shaft. Either one I thought would take me to safety. I started through the one on my right. I felt the effect of the fumes. Others were struggling franticly in the same direction.

"I had gone more than half way when I found a door, used to regulate the air currents, closed. The door was arranged to swing toward me.

"It would not open because three or four men had fallen in front of it. I tried to open the door again. Other men had run behind me, some falling in their tracks; I soon saw that we were hopeless and started to return. Scores of other miners were filling the gallery and choking up the doorway beyond any hope of its ever being opened.

AMONG THOSE WHO DIED.

"Among those in the crowd were a woman and her young daughter. The mother, with folded arms, stood by the door, looking at her child. Her eyes were moist with tears. With her side was another woman, carrying an infant, while her little girl sought to comfort her.

"Never mind, mamma," said the little one, "we'll find papa."

The third victim to be identified was George McMullin. His check number, 100, was found in the pocket of his coat. Word was sent to one of his brothers.

BANKERS SMOKE PIPE OF PEACE.AMERICANS AND GERMANS SETTLE CHINESE LOAN.

Agents for the New York Group in Berlin Make Arrangements Satisfactory to the Foreign Office—One Question of Great Moment Remains as Yet Undecided.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT: BERLIN, Nov. 18.—Berlin and New York bankers who are to participate in the Hankow-Sze Chuen loan of $20,000,000, adjusted their differences at conferences held here on Tuesday and Wednesday between the Berlin bankers, acting as agents for the New York group.

The arrangement made is satisfactory to the Foreign Office, and it is presumed, will be satisfactory to the American State Department. One point of importance is still the subject of enable exchanges. This has to do with the interchangeability of the bonds.

The Americans seemingly wish the privilege of reselling their share outside of their own country, while European interests desire that the bonds be sold only within the country in which they are originally taken.

A question of some moment is still the loan to Germany. Germans and the French and English have agreed that the Chinese shall control to the extent of naming the chief engineer, etc. A deadlock on this point is possible, as both the British and German groups are steadfastly holding to their views of equity.

Portland Man Takes 3000-Mile Trip to See His Brother Play Football.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PORTLAND (Ore.) Nov. 19.—[Exclusive] Dispatch] Henry L. Corbett, a wealthy young capitalist and clubman of this city, has tagged himself as the greatest football enthusiast in the land. Fraternal pride, mingled with the pride of his Alma Mater combined, has had something to do with it. Last Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Corbett, he slipped quietly out of town for the East. The couple told their friends it was "business" that called them away.

But it has leaked out since that the "business" which lured the Corbets 3000 miles from home was the desire to see Henry Corbett's brother, Hamlin, play at Harvard and lead the back of the Crimson, go ripping through Old Eli's line of blue, in tomorrow's Yale-Harvard game on Soldiers' Field.

Hamilton Corbett is regarded as one of the best football men in the country, and one of the best men Hamlin has behind the line, according to advices received by his friends here. Henry L. Corbett, also a Harvard graduate, has repeated his belief that this year's Harvard team is a winner.

IRELAND'S OPPORTUNITY.

Great Britain Facing Greatest Constitutional Struggle in Two Centuries, Says Nationalist.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish nationalists in the British House of Commons, cabled today to T. F. O'Connor, who is here in the interest of the Irish cause, declaring that the greatest constitutional struggle in England in the last two centuries had begun.

Mr. Redmond's cablegram reads:

"The greatest constitutional struggle in England for upward of 200 years has commenced. No such opportunity has been offered Ireland to strike for liberty since Grattan moved for the Declaration of Independence."

"Accept my heartiest congratulations in the splendid success of your mission and thank you to our countrymen and friends in America for deepest gratitude for their abundant sympathy and aid. If the Irish nationalists abroad and at home act unitedly in this supreme hour, a glorious victory is assured."

Mr. O'Connor said today he had been able to sell Mr. Redmond $20,000 in cash, and that between $20,000 and $30,000 had been pledged in addition.

CHALLENGES UNIONISM.

Mines Manager in Brave Speech to Workers Outlines Future Policy of the Homestead.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT)

DEADWOOD (S. D.) Nov. 19.—(Exclusive Dispatch) "It is the universal experience all over the world that where unionism is complete its policy is to dictate to the employer in every respect. This is what the Homestead does staring it in the face and I have no desire to recall my statement that we will employ only non-union men after January 1."

This was Superintendent Grier's courageous speech before a mass meeting of 1000 miners. He said:

"I haven't anything against decent unionism, but I have a strong aversion to joining at the end of a rope. I have a letter signed by our president and secretary, proving that the men have been coerced."

The meeting passed a resolution condemning the company for discriminating against union men, declaring it illegal and advisedly to bring ruin and desolation. Radicals are dominant in the union and the name it is called for November 25. The company is prepared for any trouble.

Bjornsterne Bjornson Unable to Receive Treatment, Is Sinking—Son Summoned to Bedside.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT)

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The condition of Bjornsterne Bjornson, the Norwegian writer, is grave. He has been unable to receive the treatment for arterio sclerosis for which he came to Paris. His son was summoned to the bedside today.

Daily bulletins on the author's condition are transmitted to the Kings of Denmark and Norway.

Accompanied by members of his family, Bjornson arrived here on November 11, to undertake a course of treatment which he hoped would at least prolong his life.

OPEN DOOR IN HUN CHUN.

PEKING, Nov. 19.—Arrangements were completed today for the opening of Hun Chun, Manchuria, to international trade on January 1, next. COMMERCE CATCHER.

JAPANESE VISITORS IMPRESSED BY PORT.

Commissioners from Nippon Make a Trip to Harbor After Being Greeted Here by Committee—Banquet at the Alexandria this Evening.

THE most representative party of Japanese that has ever visited this country, arrived in the city yesterday noon, after completing a tour of three months through the United States. Among the fifty-eight foreigners are some of the best-known financiers, merchant princes, legislators and educators in the empire. Escorting them are representatives of the Pacific Coast Chamber of Commerce, and two men connected with the Department of Commerce and Labor.

It was considered significant that the men who are interested in steamships and great commercial enterprises were eager to learn about the future possibilities of the port of Los Angeles. During the little cruise of the Warrior through the harbor, President Booth of the local chamber and members of his committee, piled the visitors with questions concerning future trade between Los Angeles and the ports of Japan.

Out of consideration for the travel-worn visitors, the Entertainment Committee did not plan anything for last night. President Booth gave the representatives of the Pacific Coast commercial bodies an informal luncheon at the Jonathan Club last evening, but the Japanese retired early in order to be ready for today's programme.

This morning the cars will convey the party to Mt. Lowe. This noon there will be a reception at the Chamber of Commerce, followed by luncheon at the California Club. This afternoon a trip will be made over the Los Angeles-Pacific line to the Sherman oil wells, the Soldiers' Home. Tonight an elaborate banquet will be served at the Alexandria.

TAKE PART IN WELCOME.

The sumptuous special train pulled

United States where a similar commercial development is taking place." He pointed to the big steamer of the Union Oil Company, which was being dredging down the channel and inquired what boat it was. When told it carried oil to Panama, he exclaimed: "Your oil industry is a great one. It is the coming fuel of our nation. Already some of our experts have been testing the oil and doubt a trade can be built up in time between Japan and Southern California."

Baron Kanda, a professor in the Peers' School, Tokio, and one of the leading educators of his country, was

DIES IN FOREIGN LAND.
Death Comes in Japan to Man Once in Business Here—Widow to Return.

Friends here have received news of the death in Yokohama, Japan, on October 8, of Frank Winfield, who, previous to 1891, when he went to the Orient, was engaged in the wholesale produce business, being a member of the firm of Winfield & Phillips. It is understood that the widow, Mrs. Annie L. Winfield, will return during the winter to make her home in this city.

Mr. Winfield's prominence and popularity in Yokohama is attested by the wide mention made in the papers of that city regarding his death. The Yokohama Gazette, in giving notice of his death and funeral, mentioned that the body would be cremated at his own request, and the ashes taken to Virginia for burial in the family cemetery.

Mr. Winfield was born in Virginia 74 years ago. He was educated in William and Mary College of that State, and his father and a brother were famous surgeons in Richmond. After attending school, Mr. Winfield went to Illinois and later to Denver, where, for some years, he was prominent in business. The necessity for a milder climate caused him to move to Los Angeles. He has four sisters and a number of other relatives still in Virginia.

STRANGE.
BALLOTS GO FAR ASTRAY.

Box of City Votes Goes to County Storehouse.

Been Wandering Since Day of Primary Election.

Condition of Contents Not Yet Determined.

After slammimg and sloshing around in a big tin box for more than a week, the ballots cast in Precinct No. 14 at the recent primary election were found yesterday at the county storehouse, several blocks from the City Hall, where they should have been delivered immediately after the primaries. There is something of a mystery as to the exact condition of the ballots.

for delivery, as he supposed, at the office of the City Clerk. Just how the thing came to stray into the storehouse is not known.

It is not considered likely that the lawyers who have begun contest proceedings in behalf of Musket will use the wandering of the filed ballot box as further ground for complaint, though it is a technicality, if nothing more, which may serve to complicate matters.

HALF-WAY STATION.

WILD WORKERS GET INTO JAIL.

MANY MEMBERS OF I.W.W. ON WAY TO SPOKANE.

Try to Raise Trouble at Murphy Temperance Meeting, But Are Awaed by Police—One "Red" Arrested and Locked Up on a Charge of Drunkenness.

The I.W.W. is streaking through Los Angeles, on its way to Spokane, where the "great fight for speech" is being made by the anarchists, who openly defy the laws and ordinances of the northern city that they may pose as "martyrs" and obtain sympathy.

As explained by the I.W.W. papers, a full assortment of which is being left at the office of the desk sergeant by sundry drunkards and vagabonds who are hauled nightly to the Police Station, the "fighters for free speech" are coming all the way from McKeo's Rock and other hot-beds of anarchy. It is also explained by these same publications that: "The boys naturally must travel cheaply—any old way they can, on the guts of a box car (the roofs and trucks) on the blind bags, or any old way."

The gentlemen who travel in that style are no mere snicks about selecting their hotels than they are in choosing their mode of transportation. Judging from the records in the local police station since the Spokane fight began, the favorite plan to obtain a night's lodging is to get drunk and sleep in jail. Some prefer "mechanics," which is the hobo vernacular for begging.

Tom O'Neal was the first I.W.W. lodger to obtain recognition at the City Jail last night. He will show up in the Police Court this morning to answer to a charge of drunkenness.

The most sensational incident at the encounter last night between William Murphy, the temperance advocate, and the I.W.W. shouter, an encounter in which only the police prevented Murphy from coming to grief, the heroes of the struggle were the men who tried to overturn his wagon, as they did the night before.

Murphy is tremendously in earnest in his work. He advertised that he would speak at the corner of Second and Main Streets and many, the mob, to the temperance and mainly, to worship God and live according to His teachings.

The I.W.W., while professing to renounce anarchy, makes it a point at every opportunity to blatantly claim against church and state and every old church—just as it blames its "victorizations" against every form of constituted authority.

The announcement of the temperance meeting in Los Angeles street was exactly what the I.W.W. men wanted, to draw the temperance workers and those who plague Los Angeles by continuous residence here saw in this a grand chance for a spectacular display. It would be fine to "show that preacher where to get off." Sure, there would be a big meeting of the I.W.W.

A number of citizens who wanted to preserve order, and the "red" refrained for awhile from trying to do more than to drown Murphy's voice with their bosphemy and billingsgate. Then several onslaughts were made on the gospel wagon, the mob stopping short of actually confronting the efforts who looked much as they might be fitting for business.

But O'Neal was carried away with his enthusiasm and the fumes of the liquor he had imbibed. The words of a flannel-mouthed "orator" still rang in his ears.

"He has deserted the ranks of socialism to devote my energies to the I.W.W. It is all right for you policemen to stay here and overawe us tonight, for you are in the majority, but you just wait until everybody joins the I.W.W., and then we will show you where to get off."

If it turned out that the ballots were not sealed in the envelope and that they were open to the scrutiny of even one person after they were handled by the election officers, the voters of Precinct No. 14 probably will have to be thrown out.

The effect of throwing out the ballots would be to increase Smith's lead over Musket by nine, as in that pre-trail the vote for Musket was 22 and for Smith 23.

ERR IN HANDLING.

Just what action may be taken in the master, which on the surface appears to be due to an error on the part of the election officers of the precinct, will not be known until all the facts become known, probably today.

Under the law, the voted ballots should have been sealed in a separate envelope and delivered at the office of the City Clerk immediately after the count was completed. That this was not done is clear, but whether the entire rejection of the votes of that precinct is something that has not been established.

Ballot boxes used at all elections are kept in the county storehouse on New High Street, and most of them have returned to that place. Yesterday, when county employees were engaged in receiving the boxes they discovered that one of them had not been emptied. Thinking some carelessness offical had stuffed a lot of trash into the receptacle, one of the men opened the box and found that the voted ballots. The box was promptly locked, without the removal of its contents, and the City Clerk's office was notified. Then the box was placed in safe keeping until it shall be called for by the proper person.

SEALED, SAYS JUDGE.

Precinct No. 14 is in the Sixth Ward, the voting place at last week's election being at No. 2334 Central Avenue. The election officers named by the Council or City Clerk were: George E. Hickman, Fred L. Baker, M. C. Neuner and Dick Morris. The committee will hold its first meeting on Monday at 2 o'clock.

The resolution set forth the great interest manifested by residents of the city in the proposed plan, and the benefits that will necessarily accrue to Los Angeles and Southern California, through the great number of visitors it will attract, and also through the vast amount of advertising it will give the unequalled climatic conditions and other advantages of Southern California. They call upon public-spirited citizens to give the committee full moral and financial support.

FLYERS' CELEBRATION.

Aviation Week Committee Named by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association Directors.

The tremendous boost that was given the aviation deck project at the bandage of 250 members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association on Thursday night, was followed up yesterday by the appointment of a strong committee to take the enterprise in hand.

The board of directors of the association, in accordance with the instructions given them by the general body, met yesterday and adopted resolutions looking toward carrying out the project during January, 1910, and the president appointed the following Executive Committee, with full power to arrange all the details and to manage the same.

D. A. Hamburger, chairman; Perry W. Weidner, treasurer; F. J. Zehndeler, secretary; Robert March, Fred L. Baker, M. C. Neuner and Dick Morris.

into Arcadia station a few minutes after 12 noon. Scores of local Japanese were in waiting to do honor to their country's representatives, and several of them occupied prominent places on the Reception Committee.

President Booth hastened to pay his respects to Baron Eiichi Shibusawa, the head of the Japanese delegation, and the greatest financier in Japan. The Baron shook hands with a number of the committee and then excused himself from participating in the trip to the harbor on the plea of a severe cold. Those who desired to go immediately to the breakwater were taken there in automobiles.

At the close of an informal reception on the station platform, the Reception Committee boarded the parlor car "Condor," and the train was started for San Pedro. During the short ride, the members of the Reception Committee were frequently called upon welcoming the Japanese. The visitors were very courteous and seemingly well pleased with their first glimpse of Los Angeles.

The Warrior, one of the Banning Company's boats, was waiting at the Southern Pacific wharf, when the train reached San Pedro. She was decorated with American and Japanese flags and presented a gay appearance.

The four Japanese ladies who ventured on the little sea trip took their places in the stateroom and remained there until the landing was reached on the return trip. They chatted with the ladies who aided the Chamber in receiving.

CHANCES FOR TRADE.

"This western part of your country is advancing to the front with enormous strides," remarked B. Nakanishi, president of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce and a member of the House of Representatives. "From my car window I have seen evidences of remarkable growth. Our country, too, is pushing hard, and our enterprises and we feel a peculiar sympathy with the sections of the

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Leslie R. Hewitt, City Attorney, who has been hard-pressed with official work, collapsed in his office yesterday morning, and was ordered to seek a rest.

Judge Willis yesterday gave a decision defining the responsibility of automobile drivers who violate the anti-speeding ordinance. He said they are criminally liable for accidents that may occur as the result of reckless driving.

A. F. Hahn, postmaster at Gardena, testified in Judge House's court yesterday that his wife deserted him because he objected to her accepting the agency of the Pacific Electric at that place.

The case against W. H. Carlson alleging a false entry of $3,000 will go to the jury in Judge Davis's court today. The arguments will close this morning.

Attorney Will D. Gould will be cited to appear in Judge Moss's court Monday, and render an account of the estate of the late Julia Ann Kilborn.

Cafe and restaurant proprietors yesterday indicated an intention of fighting for a right to keep marquees over the sidewalks in front of their respective places of business. They will appeal to the City Council to pass an ordinance in their behalf.

Justice Chambers yesterday ordered a test of the speedometers on the police motorcycles to be made to aid him in arriving at a decision in the case of W. B. Haines, who is charged with having violated the speed ordinance.

AT THE CITY HALL.

HEWITT BREAKS UNDER STRAIN.

CITY ATTORNEY MUST DESIST FROM WORK FOR A TIME.

Long Hours and Business of Importance Cause a Collapse of Head of City's Legal Department Yesterday—Physician Directs, But Hewitt Modifies Treatment.

Returning to his office yesterday morning to resume labors he had suspended at midnight before, Leslie R. Hewitt, City Attorney, was prostrated by a nervous attack. Dr. L. M. Powers, Health Officer, was the nearest physician, and when he responded to a summons he found the City Attorney in a swoon. When revived, Dr. Powers made an examination, and pronounced Hewitt almost a nervous wreck from long hours and close attention to his official duties.

He directed that Hewitt leave his office at once and take a rest of several weeks, as he believed continued work might bring a much more serious attack.

Hewitt, however, modified the doctor's directions, and declared he could not leave until Tuesday because of important legal matters of the municipality he now has in hand. He agreed to leave the city after the Council meeting Tuesday and seek recuperation.

Among the legal matters is the suit to procure a writ of mandamus against the City Clerk, because he has refused to publish the ordinance calling for the double harbor and bond election. This suit is almost ready for filing, and as it involves the integrity of the whole issue of $6,500,000 in harbor and power bonds, Hewitt is unwilling to drop it.

Consequently, when he recovered, he resumed work at his desk against Dr. Powers' advice, and remained there the rest of the day. Visitors were denied access to him while he finished drafting the complaint.

That he still suffered collapse is not as yet known to those city officials who have known what a tremendous demand on his time and energies the legal business of the city has been in the past two months. Beginning two months ago with a big burden, he has not stopped working, adding to his load as their importance appealed to him, and he has also met the demands of many officials for answers to questions of lesser importance that might as well have been attended to by his deputies. His office hours have usually been from about 9 in the morning until nearly midnight, and he has added to this most of Sunday. For some time he has been urged to desist these long hours, but disregarded all advice.

During his absence John W. Shenk, Assistant City Attorney, who has assisted Hewitt in his labors, even to the midnight hour, will take charge of the legal department—that is, unless Hewitt changes his mind and decides to ignore the doctor's advice, a friend's hope he will not do.

Hewitt is the candidate on the Republican ticket for attorney general, and has given little attention to politics during the entire campaign, except as the legal department was called on officially to give advice.

The City Attorney receives the minimum sum of $350 a month for his services.

MORE POLICE.

DISHMAN AFTER COUNCIL.

Chief Dishman is still asking more policemen. At the City Hall yesterday, he gathered several members of the Council together in an effort to advance his plans for an addition of fifty men to the force. He bases this increase not only on the need in the city, but because of the great increase in territory through consolidation and annexation.

Some councilmen thought there was not enough bridge money unexpended this year to admit of an increase of twenty-five men, but the appropriation for the bridges is just sufficient to cover the work to be done during the fiscal year. The councilmen said they were ready to provide an increase whenever the money to pay them could be found—which is rather difficult, as the Council has already appropriated more than the annual income amounts to.

Dishman says the force has been increased just eight men since he took charge, and in the same time the charge upon the force has been almost doubled.

MAY BUILD SEWER.

ARROYO DE LOS POSOS PLAN. A right of way through the bed of the Arroyo de los Posos granted by the Pacific Electric Company and allied corporations, was filed with the City Engineer yesterday. It is to enable the construction of the arroyo sanitary sewer between Mission Road and Soto street—a distance of 2,900 feet—for which the people of the district have been working for the past three years.

The granting of the right of way carries with it the construction of several bridges by the company, and in return, the vacation of parts of several unnecessary streets for the benefit of the community.

tion of the ordinances of intention to the Council, so that the work on the sewer may be advanced rapidly. It will vary from fourteen inches to twenty inches in diameter, and when completed, will make possible building over a large area that would be useless without it.

New Year Garbage.
Charles Alexander, who was awarded the garbage contract for five years, has notified the Board of Public Works that he will be ready with new equipment to undertake the work January 1. On this, the board entered into a new contract with the Vernon hog raisers for the month of December only.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

SPEED FIENDS FACE PENALTY.

DECISION ON APPEAL UPHOLDS LOWER COURT.

Judge Willis Sets Precedent That Any Person Operating Vehicle Faster Than Law Permits Is Criminally Liable for Accidents That Occur as Result of Violation.

In a decision given by Judge Willis yesterday, the principle is laid down that any person operating an automobile at an illegal speed is criminally liable for accidents that may occur as the result of such violation of law.

It is the first time in the history of California, so far as known, that the declaration has been officially made from the bench, and owners and drivers of machines will be interested in the opinion. The dictum of the court does not apply alone to operators of automobiles who violate the law in regard to the speed limit, but it applies with equal force to those who own or drive other vehicles in a manner not allowed by city ordinances, from which injuries or death may result. It lays down the broad principle that a man is liable criminally for such injuries or death.

The case at bar was an appeal from the court of Justice Chambers. On July 5, R. W. Mattoon, the owner of a big machine, and an automobile garage in this city, ran down F. W. Penrod on Pico street, as the latter was stepping from a street car. Mattoon was arrested on the charge of driving so fast as to have been negligent, and was assessed a penalty of thirty days in the City Jail. It was from this decision that Mattoon appealed.

Judge Willis, in affirming the judgment of the lower court, said that under the law, the streets of any municipality should be held to be the use of all the people, and the court was of the opinion that men, women and children have the inherent right to travel in, along and across the same, without having life or limb imperiled by the reckless use of motorcycles, auto or other vehicles, and was of the opinion that the authorities cited their fullest application, and whenever possible to uphold the lower courts in their efforts to protect the public by a strict enforcement of the laws of speed, as far as the law enacted in the interests of public safety.

The court further found that in this case the evidence was sufficient to show that the defendant, within the meaning of the statute, wilfully and unlawfully used force and violence against the person of another. The rate of speed at which he drove the machine was sufficient to warrant the lower court in finding him at least criminally negligent, and the finding of these elements by the lower court was all that was necessary to authorize him to find the defendant guilty.

A review of the record showed a reversible error by Judge Willis, and the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

The decision means that Mattoon, who is out on bail pending the result of his appeal, will be compelled to serve his thirty days' imprisonment in the City Jail. It was in evidence that he was traveling at the rate of about thirty-five miles an hour when the big machine struck young Penrod.

TO THE JURY.

CARLSON CASE ENDS TODAY.

The second of the two recent trials of W. H. Carlson, involving criminal charges, will go to the jury in Judge Davis's court today. The testimony was completed yesterday, and Deputy District Attorney Blair addressed the jury in behalf of the people, while the accused, appearing in his own behalf, spoke at some length. Court will convene this morning at 9:30, and each speaker will be allowed three-quarters of an hour to close.

The decision means that Carlson will be allowed to present his defense to the jury, and the trial will be conducted in the City Jail. It was in evidence that he was traveling at the rate of about thirty-five miles an hour when the big machine struck young Penrod.

CRIMINAL CASES.

ARGUED WITH ICE PICK.

Judge Willis's court yesterday summarized Reed, an ice hauler, who sought to enforce an argument on W. L. Pettus by hitting him on the head with an ice pick, was sentenced to Folsom for two years.

The next time you have trouble on your ice route, use your fists and not an ice pick," remarked the court.

Reed thought that it was possible he could go out of fashion before he had another chance to even up on an argument.

N. J. Ockskrader, charged with embezzling $2400, the property of Pease Bros., pleaded not guilty to the complaint, but was found guilty on Sept. 25—just in time to give him a Christmas present, but whether a conviction or acquittal it will be up to the jury to say.

William Chapman, belonging to one of the largest families in San Diego, was charged with being a burglar, and insisted that Carlson was guilty of making a false entry on the books of the Pease Bros. of Los Angeles, to the extent of the $400 draft that forms the basis of this prosecution.

Carlson in his reply said that he had been hounded with threats of criminal charges, but was almost always ready, that it was enough to make one inclined to have his motives and his actions impugned in such a sensational and groundless way. He argued that there was at this time due the Carlson Interests $1,250 from the Balaton Realty Company of San Diego, and there was no necessity for a fraudulent draft.

Attorney S. F. Smith, of the latter corporation, had testified that but for the financial stress striking San Diego at that time the draft would have been paid.

W. H. Carlson, Jr., was a witness at the morning session of the court. He is a son of the defendant, and descended from W. H. Carlson, the founder.

He signed the notes respectively for $400 and $600, on behalf of the Redondo, Hermosa and Belvedere Railways, it will be recalled that both tests signed the notes, but that the last affidavit their signatures to what they supposed were articles of incorporation.

During the hearing Carlson dramatically declared that he owned no personalty or stock of the Consolidated Engineering Co. of Los Angeles, and that if anybody was swindled it was himself, nearly all the bank stock was held by him.

HELD INTO COURT.

SHAMED HER MEXICAN.

When Rebecca Sheain became the wife of Joe Jarmillo, a Mexican, Thursday, she made the mistake of her life. She evidently forgot that one of the conditions of her probation by Judge Willis was that she should not marry the young Mexican. At the time the woman was released by the couples wedded, but the court would not consent.

When word was brought to Judge Willis that Mrs. Sheain had become the wife of Jarmillo, he at once ordered that she be brought into court and explain why she had violated an order that she had promised to obey. It was a rather chilly proposal to have the boy mount investigating so ruthlessly, but the officers got after Rebecca and Joe, and proceeded to round them up.

The pair were found on Main street, and when brought into court the woman said she had been married and showed the license to prove her statement on that subject. She declared that she had not understood the court when she was warned that any attempt on her part to marry Jarmillo would be considered a violation of the injunction. The typewritten order of the court was produced and it did not say in so many words that she should not marry the Mexican, but that they should not concur together.

In answer to a question of the court Mrs. Sheain said she desired the advice of her attorney and in the meantime until the further hearing of the case Monday, she was committed to jail. Jarmillo accompanied his intended wife to the courtroom, and was much interested in the proceedings.

CASE OF BRICKS.

OUTFALL SEWER MEMORIES.

A case recalling memories of the past, when the outfall sewer was being built and the Independent Brick Company was organized, with a plant at Inglewood, to supply the demand for brick, was heard in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday. The testimony was not completed, and will be resumed Wednesday evening when Oscar Lawyer, Assistant Attorney-General of the State, will be in court.

It appeared from the complaint that the independent brick company had received a large sum of money from the city of Los Angeles in connection with the sale of its stock to the city.

It was alleged that the city man, and when he was arrested his partners were found filled with loot of various kinds and values. On the first charge he was given two years at San Quentin; on the second, one year.

Norris Lind pleaded guilty to burglarizing the store of J. P. Dickman, and was given two years at San Quentin. He was asserted to be a楞 boy who was 18 years of age, claimed that he was intoxicated when he committed the offense, and that he had been drinking with his friends.

He was given two years at San Quentin, and when he was released he was given two years probation, with the condition that he must lay away $10 a month. The case against Robert Stratton, who was also in the crowd, was dismissed. He received the stolen property, but it was proved that he was drunk at the time.

INJUNCTION ASKED.

PASSWORDS ARE PUBLIC.

A colored secret society known as the Grand Lodge of the United Brotherhood of Friendship and Sisters of the Mysterious Ten, broke into court yesterday by the injunction route, asking for a restraining order against J. W. Stanley and eight other defendants.

The petition upon which the restraining order is based, recites that since January, 1906, the Grand Lodge has established two lodges for men, and a temple for women and other juvenile for children in Los Angeles. It is further set out that in the work of the order it is necessary to have certain signs, grips, passwords and a ritual, which the defendants have proposed to appropriate to themselves, thus bringing the real order into disrepute.

The defendants in August last, it is alleged, organized a fraternal body identical with that of the plaintiff in the case, and distributed literature, and fraudulently distributed literature belonging to the plaintiff, using the seal of the order, etc. It is also asserted that they have misled the public, and that the newcomers in the field of fraternal organizations are not the real thing at all.

The prayer of the petition is for a restraining order to prevent the defendants from using the signs, grip or password of the plaintiff organization, or circulating literature in its name.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

JUDGE RIVES SICK.

Probate Judge Rives was confined to his home at Downey yesterday on account of sickness, and he will not be on duty until next Monday. Judge Willis of Department Eleven, presided in his stead.

AGAIN POSTPONED.

The matter of the contested will of the late Carrie Jones, set for Judge Rives's court yesterday, was postponed until Monday next, when the proposed contest of the will may be thrashed out.

WANT TO BORROW.

The Clearwater Club, Inc., filed a petition in court yesterday asking for permission to mortgage its property for $200, the money to be used for the purposes of the organization.

The board of directors, T. E. De la Mert, R. H. Tupman, C. A. Plaisted and C. P. Eldridge, consent to the arrangement.

SUIT ON COMMISSION.

W. L. Carter and J. A. Woy sued Henry M. Borges, yesterday, to recover $750 alleged to be due on account of commission for a trade of the Evergreen Ranch property in Long Beach. The ranch is valued at $10,000 and a consideration of $17,500 accompanied its transfer.

CHURCH FINANCES.

In Judge Wilbur's court the Memorial Baptist Church of Pasadena was allowed to mortgage its premises for $6500, it being agreed to accept plan to erect a new church edifice on the property.

The congregation has been holding services in a tent for some time. The Lake Avenue Congregational Church of Pasadena was granted the privilege of selling its real estate to G. F. Brigham for $3000.

CHANGE OF NAME.

Hereford call him Rodney Wells Hildebrand.

Judge Wilbur yesterday granted a petition to have his name changed from Rodney Wells Powers. The mother of the deceased, Mrs. Nellie Hopkins McPartland, Father McNamara, Elizabeth Kaye and Mrs. Catharine Goodwin.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY.

HOW IT MAY BE DISPOSED OF.

Judge James rendered an important decision yesterday on the subject of the disposition of community property that may be of service to couples contemplating divorce, or where one of the parties to the action has been abandoned, but no complaint formally looking toward separation proceedings.

The action was one for claim and delivery instituted by Mrs. Lillian C. Earles against Mr. M. E. Dunn, a widow, of this city. It appeared from the evidence that Mrs. Earles had abandoned and deserted her husband, and one of the exhibits at the trial was a picture of the couple sitting in Judge Hervey's court last evening. The jury will be charged by the court this morning and then retire to deliberate on a verdict.

Mrs. Newlywed: George said he would be up last night, and that's what he did.

Mother: I don't believe there is any such thing as a Turkish Bath.

Mrs. Newlywed: You don't? Why?

Mother: Because I saw a Turkish bath change.

Jason: This old sofa hasn't changed we have been courting on it for the last two years.

Cynthia: Well, Jason, in one way you're right.

Jason: Modern? How so?

Cynthia: Why, it's wireless!—[Cries out to get lost.]

Mrs. Kicker: If you are going to those banquets I don't suppose the number of the house when you go.

Mr. Kicker: Oh, yes, I will; from the door and am taking it with City Journal.

Mrs. Crawford: Is she different from the others?

Mrs. Grabshaw: Only in one way: 25 a month more.—[Lippincott's Benefit of a Little Science.]

Prof. Knowit: You've been studying Mr. Freshie. Can you tell me where he's falling out?

Freshie: The laws of gravitation had the least personal magnetism, would fall in.—[Life.]

Wigwag: When are you going to pay me?

Borrowell: My dear fellow, you are out of a turnip.

Wigwag: I know, but if I could get out of a beat.—[Find the Answer That Failed.]

Small Bobby: Papa, why can a man not be born?

Papa: Because he is bigger, my son.

Small Bobby (after pondering moments): Well, if that's the reason, how come wheels of a wagon run faster than men?—[Washington Star.]

Relinquishment.

As I sit in the twilight this evening my memory goes back through the years of my life.

With their burthen of longing to lure and to baffle no more,

Like ghosts from the Lethas.

And out of the region of shadow A something comes creeping up.

I feel the old spell closing round.

Enfrighted with its madness.

Oh, Dream, come you back again!

Of a life that has perished a Come you back with your soft, Come to me.

To twist in the strings of my life.

As I sit in the twilight this evening I cover my eyes for a space,

And I tremble, oh, angels above,

Lest I look my dread Dream in the face.

BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.
Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 21.

II Cor. xi. 21; III. 10: "Paul's Story of His Life."

THE CONNECTION.

We left Paul a prisoner at Rome, though permitted to live in his own "wired house," under guard. He was there two years, from the spring of A.D. 62 or 63. At least eight before that he had been writing his interesting account of himself in a letter to the Christians at Corinth, which is called II Cor., written from somewhere in Italy, soon after he left Ephesus. And this account of himself is in answer to the charges which his enemies had brought against him over at Corinth. Those enemies were mostly Christian Jews, who bounded him everywhere, because he admitted the Gentiles on equal terms with the Jews. They denied him the title of true apostle, and brought all kinds of charges against his moral character. This wounded him deeply, and he did what he disliked to do, he defended himself in detail. In his defense, he told of his achievements, and especially of his suffering. We have a clear view of the great man's heart of hearts in the cutting we have from that rare letter.

THE LESSON.

"His Surprising Labors and Sufferings."

"Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the ministers of Christ? I speak as one beside himself! I more; in labors more abundant, in stripes more measure, in deaths oft. Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night swept nights often of perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, in perils from my countrymen, in perils from the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; in labor and travel in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, fasting often, often in cold and nakedness. Besides these labors that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for all the churches."

He compares himself with his dangers and thereby disproves their charge.

First: His fidelity to the national faith.

They called him a traitor and a renegade, because he did not require the Christians to keep him in his course; but he was true to his blood and breeding. He makes this complete by three statements, that he is a Hebrew, with the same blood he has: that he also is an Israelite, holding to the true worship of God; and he is son of Abraham, inheriting the same promise. He is thus the equal of his enemies. Second: His ministry was attested by severe labors and by enduring bad treatment. In this he vanquished enemies.

(L) His Surprising Labors.

Consider the large field he covered in Asia and in Europe; the literary work he had already done, the two letters to the Thessalonians, the letter to the Galatians, and the letter to the Ephesians; the number of churches he had already planted, at great centers; the great number of converts he had won; the widespread activity he had started in gathering money for the poor at Judea and in training ministers. None of his enemies could make tact a showing.

(2) Suffering, wrongfully.

Stripes are mentioned. "Above measure" might have referred to the way the Gentiles did, when they beat him. "Fifty stripes" save one, beat him. You know at least once when he was beaten with rods at Phillipi. The three shipwrecks are unknown to us, as it was before his voyage to Rome. He was stoned at Lystra. We know some of his "journeys often." We know his trials, his persecutions.

"Waters" in the swollen streams, without bridges and in the sea; "robbers" on all the roads he traveled; these were some of his perils. Hebrews and Gentiles did him violence. His privations were equal to his persecutions. Note that he did for the sake of his father. His enemies had no such record.

(3) The Burdens of Administration.

While doing all this colossal work and enduring these unprecedented hardships and persecutions, he was carrying enough to weigh any ordinary man down to the ground, as the general overseer of the work and the workers on two continents. The churches and their leaders looked to him for instruction and for guidance in all their problems, as now at Corinth.

II.

"His Surprising Ecclesiastes" (2: 1-6) is not expedient; but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether he is living, I know not; whether out of the body, I know not; God knoweth); such a one caught up even to the third heaven. And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; God knoweth) how that he was caught up into the third heaven. On behalf of such a one will I glory; but on mine own behalf I will not glory, save to my weaknesses. For if I should desire to glory, I shall not be foolish; for I shall spend my life in foolishness. A man should account of me above that which he saith me to be, or hearth from me."

They charged that he had not seen Jesus to the others had, and that he was not authorized by the other apostles at Jerusalem. He is a conclusive and crushing reply.

(4) Vision and Revelations.

In the letter to the Galatians he says he was not taught the gospel by men, but received it by revelation and therefore was not dependent on men. He actually saw the risen Christ, who was to demonstrate that he does not seem to be the occasion that it may have been at the time of his visit down in Arabia, where he spent three years, presumably in careful, undisturbed study, immediately after his conversion. Though speaking in the third person, he means himself, as is clear from verse 2.

That glimpse into the third heaven, or the heaven where God's throne is, above the world and its seeming, was given him for a specific purpose. That purpose was evidently to furnish him the equipment for his apostleship, which he might have had, if he had seen Jesus in the flesh, as the others had, for he appears to have been the only one of the early disciples favored with such a vision. Just how it was done we are left to conjecture, whether the soul was separated from the body or only taken in thought to heaven, whether he was transferred thither or heaven was so bright that he had to leave the same effect as if he had been taken there, something he could describe as being "caught up into heaven." Two things are to be noted. He was so absorbed in it that he could not be sure of his apostleship, and when he awoke he had lost his whole life and was now proof of his apostleship, but they were not to be told to others.

(5) His Modesty and Humility.

concerning what he saw and heard, and in his almost unbroken silence about having had such a vision at that time. Nowhere else has he been so personal as in this account, and only this once does he tell of those severities of afflictions, and of this great calamity. His modesty restrains him from referring to himself directly, so he uses third person. The great truths that were uncovered by his ministry were afterward his joy, and he shows how they were personally rooted in Christ, his Lord and Savior. His thorn in the flesh, also keeps him modest, but he will get that further on.

III. "And he was in the flesh." (I Cor. 15: 39.)

"And he was in the flesh" is the exacting greatness of the revelations, wherefore, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, a messenger of Satan to buffet me that I should not be exalted too much. Concerning this thing I beseech the Lord that it might depart from me. He said, "My grace is sufficient for you; for my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore would I part from you, but I must abide in the flesh. For this cause I have chosen to minister at Ephesus, for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then am I strong."

(1) The origin of this "stake in the flesh" is the word itself, like a great wooden stake thrust into the side, was Satanic. That is the cause of sin.

2. God's purpose in allowing it to touch him, when he could have shielded him from it, or relieved him of it, was to give him a chance to oppose defeated Satan's purpose. That purpose was to keep him from becoming vain over his special privileges and experience. At first he thought he could not live and work, with such disadvantage, but in answer to his difficulties, God told him he could do better than take it away and leave him with no more strength than he had before; He would give him new power to bear it. Also God told him that his present weakness, was an opportunity for God's power to display itself.

3. What was that thorn? No one knows. It was evidently physical, possibly feeble eyes, blinking and putting him at a disadvantage. It was not inheritance, but something that came at that time, or developed just then. When he was at Ephesus, he was, Paul came to be given of it, for he kept him dependent on God, and kept God's power well displayed in him.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The tendency has been in these latter days to lure men into a profession of Christianity by rose-tinted representations of the Christian life, and it and we have emasculated it and brought it into contempt. EVERYDAY THANKSGIVING.

Topic Comments Upon the Christian Endeavor Topic for November 21: "The Blessing of a Thankful Heart."—[Neh. viii. 5-12.]

By William T. Ellis.

Optimism is the day's fat. It is a good fat, despite the evidence that some persons are trying to feed their spirits on what Carlyle called "a diet of broad grime." More heedless good nature and careless assurance are not the real optimism. Real optimism has its springs in a thankful heart. It is grateful for the good, and looks ever on the brighter side because it is the better side, and all things considered, the true side also. Unshakable optimism is that which is pillars in a temple trust in God. It believes that all things will come out right in the end because God is in control, and His other name is love.

A thankful heart is greater riches than a full purse.

For human love, and love divine, love of ours, and love of Thine, For heaven on earth and heaven above.

We thank Thee. —[J. G. Holland.

It takes uncommon grace to be thankful for common mercies.

Among all the blessings for which mortals should give thanks the blessing of a thankful heart should have a high place. This spirit of gratitude, which accepts God's good guarantee in all of life, as not merely a means to his providence, but grateful for them, is a trace of the divine in the human. For it was God's own Son who taught men to say, "Father, I thank Thee."

It may have been at the time of his visit down in Arabia, where he spent three years, presumably in careful, undisturbed study, immediately after his conversion. Though speaking in the third person, he means himself, as is clear from verse 2.

That glimpse into the third heaven, or the heaven where God's throne is, above the world and its seeming, was given him for a specific purpose. That purpose was evidently to furnish him the equipment for his apostleship, which he might have had, if he had seen Jesus in the flesh, as the others had, for he appears to have been the only one of the early disciples favored with such a vision.

Just how it was done we are left to conjecture, whether the soul was separated from the body or only taken in thought to heaven, whether he was transferred thither or heaven was so bright that he had to leave the same effect as if he had been taken there, something he could describe as being "caught up into heaven."

Two things are to be noted. He was so absorbed in it that he could not be sure of his apostleship, and when he awoke he had lost his whole life and was now proof of his apostleship, but they were not to be told to others.

(5) His Modesty and Humility.

concerning what he saw and heard, and about having had such a vision at that time. Nowhere else has he been so personal as in this account, and only this once does he tell of those severities of afflictions, and of this great calamity.

His modesty restrains him from referring to himself directly, so he uses third person.

"Comrade of our nights and days, Thou givest all things, like our praise!"

For healing touch of children's hands, For healing laid high intent, For all life's blissoons and sport: O Comrade of our nights and days, Thou givest all things, like our praise!

ARTHUR KETCHUM.

"Thankfulness for blessings," says Amos R. Wells, "is almost always a greater blessing than those for which we are thankful."

Since every day is God's day, every day should be a thanksgiving day.

Happiness is the thanks we say to God. Just to be glad is gratitude.

These are the gifts of life: Strength for the daily task, Courage to face the road, Good cheer to help me bear the traveler's load, And for the hours of rest that come An inward joy for all things heard and seen.

—[Anon.]

A few years ago there was a jingling song popular with Christian Endeavor Societies and Sunday schools, to the tune of "Your Kingdom Come": "Come, O King of Kings, make them one by one." The idea was better than the poetry. It is a good basic philosophy for life. To exercise one's will in the resolution, recognition of the joys of existence, to evoke new depths of one's own nature. We have been asked to make an exhibit of their work, consisting largely of pictures and charts.

By Miss SYDNEY FORD.

It is the time of year when the housewives get in their artistic mood. What artistry they are to prove with the stock of goods carried in the windows of Thanksgiving day. I noticed yesterday a particularly good piece of Thanksgiving day window work in one of the houses on Broadway. It was the Marlowe, rocking rapidly on the waves of the break of Plymouth. By means of mechanical contrivance, the canoe goes to and fro rhythmically, with it the whitewashed walls which our forefathers landed. This scene forms the background to the scene of the foreground is a Thanksgiving table, with fine linen and sparkling glass, which is the effect of the fruit of tree and vine, which is superseeded by this more delicate dish, but there is a way to bake cabbage so that even its worst enemies will tolerate it, says an exchange. First cook it tender in salted water, changing the water three times. Then cover it, put it into a moderate baked dish, then a cupful of white sauce mixed with grated cheese over it, cover the top with buttered bread crumbs and bake till the top is brown.

Seems like the original cabbage head would be so smothered and disguised that not even a smell of it could offend the daintiest epicure.

Baked Cabbage.

In this country where cauliflower, which has been aptly termed, "college cabbage," is the specialty of the year, cabbage loses its superseeded by this more delicate dish, but there is a way to bake cabbage so that even its worst enemies will tolerate it, says an exchange.

Fashionable Fads.

The vogue of the fur hat, last winter, is still in the hat box, is now firmly established.

Many of the handsomest silk gauges have printed borders, which work well in the new draperies.

The spherical buttons in gilt and also in silver, is appearing among the novelties in dress accessories.

Small diamond gloves for the little ones are made like a man's glove and close with a single clasp.

Black and black and white—or "mapple"—effects fail to remain in high favor all through the winter.

The off-the-shoulder blouse is the latest fashion, and the little girls are wearing them come in sets, so that even all the shoes will go out at once, and by the time one is sold out, the other is not far off.

"Oh, that's nothing," she said, "I can't sell my blouse of $10 and $12 my mother's shoes—and I don't half my round." She has a way of saying it.

Wearing a blouse, a mother, writing to me, suggests a new fashion for the winter babies, and the way to use to some young ones are not afraid to be a bit plainer," she says, "use clothes in a more form—outside, the little girl's blouse, and the next time she wears it, she'll be all the more attractive."

She should such be in style, the outer one the largest, the mat a trifle smaller, and the inner one the smallest. I place them, one fitted into the other on the back, and the small gold little arms, instead of holding him and tie his waist, wide, we have around his waist, in front. Think of it—not a pin button. Happy baby—and he will be smiling, I assure you. The outfit is simple, and the blouse is plain, and, believe me, simple or these are the most satisfactory and comfortable, easy to put on and to laund.

SENATORS TALK OF IRRIGATION.

Investigation of Salt River Project Is On.

No More Money for Arizona, Says Warren.

Santa Fe Pushing the Bengal Extension.

GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

PHOENIX (APRIL) Nov. 17.—On Monday and Tuesday Senators Carter, Warren and Jones investigated the Salt River reclamation project, in their company being Director F. H. Newell and Engineer-in-Charge L. C. Hill of the Reclamation Service. The party made the sixty-mile trip from Mesa to Roosevelt on Monday and the return journey yesterday without a single disagreeable incident and made as close an investigation as the time would permit of the main reservoir and dam, of the diversion dam at Granite Reef and of the distributing system in the Salt River Valley.

Last night the Senators met a large number of business men and farmers at the Board of Trade rooms in Phoenix where the nineteen questions that have been considered in connection with all reclamation projects were answered and the answers discussed. It had been expected that active opposition would be manifested at this meeting to the conduct of the reclamation work in this country, though the "insurgents" were present in numbers. The answers given by them to the questions differed little from those presented by Legal Advisor J. H. Kirby of the Water Users' Association. The "insurgents" were feeling that, although as the project had been started at first was contemplated, there should be a lengthening of the period of time in which the farmers of the valley should be called upon to repay to the government the gross cost of the work done outside of this there was nothing but the work of the Reclamation Service and for the distribution of the Hanborough-Newlands irrigation act.

The Senators were careful not to do in superlatives in referring to what they had seen in Arizona, each of the three spoke highly of what he had seen in the scope of the local project, which is described as being the largest work entered upon by the Reclamation Service and the first large work which would be completed making an object lesson to the people at large of the success of a governmental bureau in conserving wealth which has heretofore been wasted.

CARTER DOUBTS EFFICACY OF BONDS.

Senator Carter made frank expression of his disbelief in the efficacy of the plan proposed by President Taft for the issuance of $18,000,000 in national bonds for completion of the reclamation projects now under way. If such bonds be issued, he said, the natural repayment would be through the sale of the land and the revenues from the sale of public lands. If this were done it would involve the sacrifice of the Reclamation Act itself, for it is very improbable that Congress ever again could be induced to vote such gigantic aid toward the reclamation of the lands within the least populated and politically least important section of the Union. There is acute hostility to the irrigation act among the representatives of the farming States of the East. He pointed out that the single State of New York and many representatives in Congress have as all the States and Territories which have profited, or may profit, through the operation of the Irrigation Act, which has served already as a vehicle for the disbursement of $18,000,000. Senator Carter assumed belief that the best thing to be done in the premises to insure the completion of the very important projects already under way, will be to issue some sort of governmental warrant, repayable out of the funds the may later come under the control of the secretary of the Interior Department. Within a few years the fund will fill up again from repayments, such as those which confront the land owners of the Salt River Valley.

NO MORE FOR ARIZONA.

Senator Warren, while speaking in terms of the citizenship of Arizona and the progress of this locality, expressed about the same ideas as his colleague, but from a different angle, that it would be a long time before Arizona got another dollar from the reclamation fund, for already this Territory has had more than thirty times as much in proportion to wealth and population, as the other states. He also recited that the ultimate development of this valley would necessitate either storage dams than that at Roosevelt, but for the present the energies of the Reclamation Service must be directed to the completion of the main project on hand, possibly without further attention to the great needs of the frontier. The new $6,000,000 will be seasonably by the time this first supply is exhausted.

Though the great bulk of mahogany from the isthmus of Tehuantepec is shipped from Mexican gulf ports to Europe, in the shape of hewed logs, there is much Peruvian mahogany contracted for by the buyers of the Mapastepel stock, which will be delivered at San Francisco vastly earlier than it could be at London.

The Peruvian Company is investing $50,000 in a sawmill at Coquimbo, Chile, on a big tract near Coquimbo Palace, expecting generous returns not only from the commercial value of the wood, but from the bark, which is a quick grower. One of the men has amassed a fortune as an ore buyer in Mexico, and the other has established several acacia plantations in South Africa under climatic conditions similar to those here, has been representative of the contracting firm of S. Pearson & Sons.

CHICLE PRODUCTION GROWING.

Great strides are being made in Mexico in the production of chicle, and chewing gum, from the chicle sapote tree whose beautiful dark-brown wood is also much prized by cabinet makers. Not the least amount of the lumber is used, however, because of the greater demand for chicle.

Early July is the season of tapping the sap, when the rains are beginning to grow freddy. The milk is dried down much after the manner of manufacture of maple sugar, the chicle cakes resembling resin in appearance. These gum cakes are of great weight and value, and for that reason throughout the United States is the principal market, most of the product is first shipped to Canada and dried, to avoid payment of excessive duty. Jobbers in charge of construction are hopeful that the year will be complete in time for carrying the summer rush of passengers from Phoenix to Los Angeles.

TOWN LOT SALE POSTPONED.

By a letter from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Register Frank Parker and Receiver Charles Arnold of the Phoenix Land Office have been advised that the sale of town lots in the Parker towns, which had been set for December, is indefinitely postponed, though proof must be made before that time on the two hundred and ninety town-lot applications, which come under the preference class. These applications are due to nothing more than a feeling of consideration for the over-worked land office officials in Phoenix.

FIRST CAR OF ORANGES.

Tonight will be started for Denver the first carload of Arizona naval oranges shipped this year from Phoenix and in the latter part of the week additional carloads will go to New York. The Phoenix packing house has been fitted with new machinery and has been at work for several days. The size of the crop is somewhat larger than last year and the quality at least as good.

Extremely cold weather has been in Arizona for the past week. There has been no rain around Phoenix, about one-half inch has fallen around Tucson and other points along the border. At Bisbee we had half a foot of snow and at Flagstaff more than a foot of snow has fallen already.

Yesterday morning, at the home of her mother in the northwestern part of Phoenix, Connie Jerman, aged 16, was scalded by hot water through the breast in a fit of ill humor, after scolding by her mother for a girlish prank. She was taken to a hospital, where she lingered until evening. When asked why she had done this, she replied, "I don't know, I said I would." It is believed that she had no intention of committing suicide and that she discharged the revolver with the intention of scaring her mother.

CATTLE GROWERS MEET.

The last session of the Cattle Growers Association of Arizona, W. W. Cook of Phoenix was elected president, W. M. Riegg of Dos Cabezas and Fred F. Coulter of Springerville, vice-president and O. H. Christy of Phoenix treasurer.

Resolutions at the last meeting of the Postmasters' Association of Arizona favored postal savings banks, simplified money order forms and the abolition of the remittance stamp. Postmaster A. W. Smith of Prescott was elected president, O. D. M. Gaddis of Kingman, vice-president, and F. W. Smith of Williamson, secretary and treasurer.

There are few places on the continent, and none in the United States, where a severe test of the endurance can be made and the Santa Fe was gratified to find the assortment had held up well against traffic and climate, attributing the success of the trial to the process of oil treatment used.

Mexico presents the anomaly of having fine timber in abundance and yet little timber in innumerable quantities, and yet importing much of her railway timbers from the United States.

The explanation, as a rule, is the long time required to deliver necessary timbers from isolated and hard-to-reach regions.

The Santa Fe has planted 1500 acres in Southern California, in eucalyptus, expecting that in twenty years the trees will have attained sufficient size to be marketable.

The trees are cut in sizes from 1100 to the acre, making the first planting 1,650,000 trees.

The annual thinning process will afford a substantial supply of fence posts, telephone poles, and like timbers, leaving the largest and best for trees.

FIRE HORSES BOLT.

Team Plunges Over Bank While Crew

Is Fighting Flames in Georgetown University.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—A spirited team of fire horses hitched to a hose cart, dashing down a 50-foot embankment and another fire horse dropping dead, after a heroic run with his mates, were instrumental in saving the library of Oberlin University early this morning.

About 50 students were asleep in the dormitory over the library, but all escaped.

The flames did the greatest damage in the library, where rare volumes worth $10,000 were destroyed.

The damage to the building was slight.

One of the hose carts was stationed at the brink of a high embankment near the University. Suddenly a bolt of lightning struck the cart.

The driver, the driver, was whirled off down the hill with the horses, and singularly enough, neither horses nor man was injured.

"Old Black Joe," one of the pet horses of the department, after finishing the grueling run of three miles up hill, dropped dead.

Meeting of Brothers After Ten Years

Too Much for Wandering Son of Rich Parents.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—After being lost to his family for ten years, the shock of meeting his brother proved too much for Stephen Bassett, whose body was sent to New Rochelle, N. Y., early today.

While chatting with W. J. Bassett, a New York traveling man, an official of the Pressed Steel Car Company of McKees Rocks, near here, said:

"We have an employe of your name in bad shape from pneumonia at a factory in this city."

The traveling man suggested that they had a brother who had been missing for ten years.

Going to the ward where the patient lay, the New Yorker discovered his long-lost brother. The meeting was pathetic, but proved too much for the sick man, who died in a few hours.

The dead man, who was 35 years old, was the son of rich parents.

MAN HUNT.

A ACTIVE CHASE FOR MURDERER.

FRESNO POLICE ARE ON TRAIL OF JAMES KERFOOT.Man Who Killed Hamlet Brown Because Letter Would Not Let Him See His Wife Supposed to Have Registered at Herndon Hotel—Lumber Cut About Same as Last Year.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

FRESNO, Nov. 19.—Local officers are still on an active hunt for James Kerfoot, who last Tuesday night shot and killed Hamlet Brown in this city because the latter, who kept a lodging-house, refused to allow Ker-foot to see his wife, from whom he had been separated.So far the only clew has been received from Dr. W. P. Miller. He states that while waiting for a train at Herndon, about ten miles north of this city, he saw a man in an extremely nervous condition arrive at the one hotel there and apply for a room. The physician's suspicions were aroused, but after referring to a description of the murderer, it was found the man was the same as the Murderer. The man was taken to the police station, where he was identified as James Kerfoot, a lumberman.Kerfoot, it is believed, has an organization of influential friends of both the Smith and Mudgett side.They are trying to create discord between Smith and Mudgett forcesin the contest proceedings in order to get a recount of the votes cast at the primary election. It is believed that the anti-Smith forces are the ones that are leading the cut about the same as last year.The lumbermen are now awaiting the decision of which possibly he had been separated.

That the product is not greater is due largely to the fact that the Huemenemont Company, operating in the King's River country, depicted the summer as overhauling its plant, preparatory to moving it from Converse Basin to the new headquarters at Huemenemont.Converse Basin is the headquarters of the lumber company for two years, but it is now found advisable to move the business farther back, involving an almost complete suspension of cutting, and the expenditure of thousands of dollars in new investment.In consequence of these changes, the company has determined to close down this winter, but to continue operations right through the stormy season. It is expected that by spring all changes will have been made and the plant ready for an unusually heavy run.The flume extending from the upper King River Canon to Sanger, twelve miles from this city, will be almost entirely rebuilt.The Fresno Flume and Lumber Company, in this connection, expect to continue work until December 15, providing unfavorable weather does not set in before that time.From reports received it is evident that the recent storm in the mountains were not as bad as at first reported. There was a light fall of snow, but not enough to hinder operations.

RETURNS ARE SATISFACTORY.

Price Conditions Please Porterville Orange Growers—Shipments Will Be Larger This Year.

SPECIAL COURSE—DECEMBER OF THE TIMES.)

PORTERVILLE (Cal.) Nov. 18.—Returns have been received by numbers of the growers, for the first pooled shipments of the 1909 orange crop, and price conditions have been very satisfactory. The Porterville f.o.b.price was from $2.10 to $2.25, which will net better than $2 for the greater majority than those far on the eastern market.That price is about 10 per cent higher than that of last year for the first shipments. Officers of the independents predict that the season's run will net 15 to 20 per cent.It is now thought that the price for the season will also increase by 10 per cent.Continued light frost has ripened the crop with wonderful rapidity during the past few days and practically all oranges to go forward from this time will carry full color.An evidence of the manner in which the Tuleare county fruit has ripened is the fact that the eastern market thus far,it is stated by one manager here that a car consigned on October 28, to a Middle Western jobbing center, has resulted in the last week, in individual orders for twenty-seven cars.As evidence of the activity in the development of the Ducor orange section, where open land has been leveledfor planting within the past season, railroad officials today stated that a consignment of two carloads of pumplemonade will be delivered there before the end of the week. While for the large number of pumpkins alreadydeveloped and installed will proceed at once. Power lines have already been run in. Water in the Ducor country is abundant and reliable.

Shipments Are Large.ESCONDIDO, Nov. 19.—There is a fierce struggle between the Limas Bean Association and the J. K. M.
Company, one of the biggest in the country dealing with produce. The association towards a document in which it announces its position in the case, the New York trade journal, in which it is reported to have made a statement which the association pronounces false.
The High School football team has chartered a special train over the High School team at San Diego.

Thanksgiving Day and at least one more game will be played between the two teams from Esco-nido.The sale of homes in the Esco-nido Valley Land and Planting Company will mean an important addition to the population and wealth of Escondido. Three houses are to be built this winter. Some of the sales have been to millionaires, who have elaborately planned for heating their winter grounds. During the winter dozens of acres will be planted to grape vineyard.The official figures show that fifty-four more carloads of citrus fruits were sent from Escondido this year than last year. The shipping in the Limas has been 250 carloads, as compared with 189 in 1908. The number of carloads shipped off the previous year. Thirty-five carloads of cattle and hogs were shipped, eight carloads of dried fruit and raisins and twenty-three carloads of oranges and grapefruit.The shipments included 1662 ten-gallon cans of cream, 5612 cans of eggs, 18-277 pounds of butter, 71,376 pounds of chicken, 65,794 pounds of fruit and vegetables, 15,822 pounds of veal and pork, 27,569 pounds of green grapes, the bulk of the table grapes having been sent out by freight.

POOR MAIL SERVICE.

That the complaints about the wretched mail service given Escondido will be increased in the future is asked by the Second Assistant Postmaster-General to Postmaster J. N.

today Mrs. Fannie Chaffee Grant, wife of U. S. Grant, Jr., who died the 10th inst., left an estate valued at $70,000.
Mr. Grant is named as executor. The will, made in June, 1889, divides the estate in equal portions between him and his children. The legatees named are U. S. Grant, Jr., San Diego; Maria Grant Macey, New York; Julia
Dent Grant, San Diego; Chaffee
Grant, New York; Julia Dent Grant, Fannie Grant, Ulysses Grant IV, San

that none of the estate can be made subject to attachments by creditors of Mr. Grant.

DAMAGE SUITS.

Damage suits aggregating $15,125.70 were filed today against Walter S.
Vail, the Los Angeles automobile who on the morning of September 27 endeavored to break the record between Los Angeles and San Diego.

One suit is brought by Mrs. Laura Ferin for alleged injuries caused by a collision with Vail's automobile.

The amount she asks is $10,000. The second suit is brought in the name of Edna Ferin, daughter of Mrs. Ferin.
The petitioners allege that Vail was the cause of serious injuries, and the court is asked to allow damages, hospital and physician's fees in each case.
Former Superior Judge E. D. Dorsey brings action against Vail in each case.

ELEVATOR OPERATOR KILLED.

Walking into the open doorway of the elevator shaft on the second floor of the Scripps building late last night,
R. V. Roberts, 29 years old, fell thirty feet to the bottom, which is hard concrete, and was instantly killed.Robert's head was crushed, the face disfigured and one of his legs broken. The body was discovered by a night watchman, who, while making his rounds of the building, discovered the elevator at the top of the building, which was unusual. Going down the stairway, the watchman found the doorway on the second landing open, confirmed his search and found Robert's body at the bottom of the shaft.

ROBERTS WAS OPERATOR KILLED.

H. B. Gurley, assistant secretary of the chamber, was at the station to look after the wants of the guests and provide automobiles for those who desired to go at once to the Alexandria.

W. Wiggins, Wiggins boarded the train, he carried two bulky packages, which occasioned some good-natured chaffing from his friends.

On the way to San Pedro, Wiggins called the members of the Reception Committee into the dining car, and there dispensed a lot of ham sandwiches. Most of the dinner was almost depleted for the time being, and Wiggins' sandwiches were much appreciated.

FOR WORLD COMMERCE.

The Warrior steamed toward the turning basin at the entrance of the inner harbor and then went out beyond the breakwater toward Long Beach.

Visitors Arrive Early and Many Expect to Stay Until Spring—Redlands Hotel Fills Rapidly.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) REDLANDS, Nov. 19.—The tourist season is opening unusually early this year, and already there are many eastern and northern people in the city. La Casa Loma had a house count of nearly 100 people last evening. Several guests arrived this week who through these. Seventeen persons will be seated at the center table.

Planking this will be two small tables, each of which will seat nine. The Japanese ladies and one man will be seated at these tables. The remainder of the 150 guests will be scattered about the room at tables which will have seats for nine at each. The largest decorative piece will consist of the flags of Japan and the United States, draped from the center of the ceiling over the room and dropping in the rear of the main table. Other smaller flags will be scattered about the room.

The Alexandria orchestra, the Neapolitan singers and two operatic lights will entertain the musical portion of the programme. The menu cards will contain eight pages. The outside page will picture San Pedro harbor and a Japanese port. Vessels passing between the two will be pictured. The entire cover will be hand painted over the engraving.

TOURIST SEASON IS ON.

possession, with diligence. As a result of this action, the officer said he will arrest her this morning.

Another person who seemed anxious that the woman should not be prosecuted is H. H. Bettis of the auditor's office of the Salt Lake Railway. She has confessed to having used his name for the purpose of getting credit.

While in McCormick's office, she maintained address him as "Pop," and affectionately laid her hand on his shoulder, as she asked: "You aren't going to prosecute me, are you?" Bettis is also acquainted with the woman's daughter, who is employed in the County Tax Collector's office. The young woman has attracted considerable attention in Ocean Park by her good looks and by the number of new tailor-made suits she wears. The difficulty in which Mrs. Utt finds herself proved great shock to her close Ocean Park friend, Mrs. Webster, say the officers.

Other officers than Zeigler, who investigated the case, argue that the manner in which Mrs. Utt bluffed three stores is not indicative that her mind was deranged from sickness. They assert that she exhibited a cunningness more of a crook than of an insane per-

Reception to Japanese Commissioners on Arrival at Arcade Station.

Standing side by side in the center of the group are Baron and Baroness Shibusawa. He is chairman of the commission. President Booth of the Chamber of Commerce and Walter Raymond are at the right.

Boys, and is a graduate of Amherst College of Massachusetts.

Dr. William Horace Day's subject in the morning will be, "Habakuk, the Scopic," and in the evening, "How to Have a Happy Home." The latter will be a young people's sermon on the problem of marriage.

On Monday night Dr. Day will give a delightful free lecture, which he calls "On the Heights." It is an illustrated story of his trip in the High Sierras, and down the line of the Los Angeles aqueduct, covering six weeks last summer, during which he made a fine collection of photographic slides, which will be of intense interest to all who attend.

HAWAII AND JAPAN.

DR. BURDETTE TO TRAVEL. Rev. Dr. Robert J. Burdette is about to go on a voyage to Hawaii and Japan, spending several months. He and Mrs. Burdette will leave their Pasadena home about the first of December, and a little later will sail from San Francisco. It is expected that the Burdettes will attend the Auditorium pulpit on Sunday morning, November 25, and preach for the first time since he was taken ill last July, and the last time before sailing. Dr. Burdette's contributions to The Times will be continued regularly during his journeys.

OPEN WITH BANQUET.

BOYS' BRIGADE CONFERENCE. The annual conference of the Boys' Brigade will open with a banquet, to be given at 7:15 this evening in the social rooms of the First Congregational Church, followed by a business meeting. At 8 o'clock on Sunday afternoon a mass meeting will be held in the same church, to be addressed by Dr. William Horace Day, Dr. Robert J. Taylor of Ingleside, and F. C. Eells of Pomona. Several companies from this city will be present in uniform. Dr. Day, Judge Wilbur, Dan W. Bartlett, Dr. Robert J. Burdette, Dr. R. B. Bowditch, Dr. John and other prominent religious workers and the city fathers, have recently identified themselves with the movement, under the leadership of Leslie G. Bryant, State president.

RELIGIOUS BRIEFS.

EVANGELIST CHANGES BASE. The tent meetings which have been in progress for some weeks at Twenty-fourth street and Central avenue, under the leadership of Evangelist George P. Taylor, will close on Sunday night. His Sunday afternoon sermon will be on "Ammonites and the Fishes." Assisted by his wife and son and F. F. Leonard, Mr. Taylor will begin a series of meetings in Memorial Baptist Church on Wednesday evening.

"Land and Rock" will be the subject of Evangelist Martin, in the First Christian Church on Sunday morning. In the afternoon at 3, he will speak to women only, and in the evening on "Divinity of Christ." Monday night he names the tent subject "Hell."

Dr. K. Walker will speak at the men's meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Sunday afternoon, at 3:30, on "The Significance of the Men's Movement." From 3:30 until 4:30 the Japanese Commission will be the guests of the association, and will hold a memorial service for the late Paul H. All men have a cordial invitation to attend the meetings.

Giles Kellogg will be the speaker at the vesper service at the Young Women's Christian Association, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All women and girls are invited.

A confirmation service will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock tomorrow, Bishop Johnson officiating.

Dr. J. Q. A. Henry of the First Baptist Church will speak tomorrow morning on "The Seven Greatest Preachers I Know," and in the evening on "The Devil's Bait," with a brief prelude on the late Charles Crittenden. For many years Dr. Henry has been a speaker with the New England Association, whom he declares to have been "not only an evangelist of renown, but a practical reformer of the first rank."

The sermon of Dr. Charles Edward Locke in the First Methodist Church Sunday evening will be the second on "Men's Rights and Men's Wrongs." He will pay his respects to the man who stays at home and takes care of his family, his country and his character, based on the story of Jesus. On its return, the vessel steamed close to the breakwater, in order that the visitors might see the classes of improvements that are being added to the natural shelter from storms. Not far astern steamed alongside the Southern Pacific ship, where a depth of thirty feet has already been reached.

"You are in a position to beckon for the commerce of the world," said the Japanese in his own language. The remark was interpreted for the benefit of Secretary Fleming of the Harbor Commission, and for the rest of the voyage, Fleming never left the side of the wealthy steamship owner, whose ships may be steaming into San Pedro harbor before long.

Reconnaissance at the German cruiser Arcona, received the Japanese on board, when the inspection of the harbor was completed. The visitors roamed about the ship, carefully examining everything, but remaining as silent as is their custom.

"A good many New Yorkers complained of me because I did not show enough enthusiasm," laughed one of the party. "I think we Japanese feel as deeply as other nations, but perhaps we do not display as much surface emotion. It is a matter of temperament. We have enjoyed our trip and feel under the greatest obligation to the Pacific Coast commercial bodies, but we do not, perhaps, express this feeling as you Americans would."

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

Detectives E. H. Murray and J. R. Rich of the Los Angeles police department, met the special train at Santa Barbara, and accompanied it here. They will probably remain with the party until it starts north for San Francisco. The two officers will guard against any snafu that may occur and prevent the intrusion of any who may harbor ill against the Japanese. While the precaution is, perhaps, not necessary, Chief Dushman, who met the train upon its arrival at the station, stated that everything in the way of safeguards would be thrown about the party while it is under examination.

F. S. Lithgow, a veteran conductor in the Pullman service, stated that he never traveled with a finer party than the Japanese. "They have been courteous and friendly," said he. "There was not a single accident and no kickups to speak of." Lithgow took charge of the train at Seattle, and has been with it ever since. He will not retire until the members arrive in San Francisco, where they will take a steamer for their own land.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. J. T. F. General met the ladies of the Japanese party at the Arcade station and extended all possible attentions to them. This evening a special committee of Los Angeles society women will look after the comfort of their Japanese sisters, all of whom, with one exception, are clad in the pretty costumes of the Isle of Nippon.

JOINS PARTY AGAIN.

J. D. Lowman, president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and head of the American representatives who have accompanied their distinguished guests, was an important arrival yesterday. He said the entire journey had been pleasant and that the western commercial bodies had shown marked attention to the commissioners.

Prof. John Paul Goode of the University of Chicago and special representative of the Department of Commerce and Labor, said the importance of the present tour cannot be overstated. He said of the vast trade with Japan, which must increase as a result of this trip and said that the United States can derive great benefit from paying especial attention to the export trade with the Japanese.

The Tacoma Board of Trade is represented on the present trip by Charles Hyde, San Francisco; Charles Stallard, Portland; O. M. Clark, and Spokane; C. Herbert Moore, H. Z. Osborne, who represented the local chamber on the journey as far as New York, was welcomed heartily by the party yesterday.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BANQUET. The banquet tonight in the main dining salon of the Alexandria will be elaborate. The arrangement of tables will be similar to that employed at the previous banquets given to the members of the battleship fleet. A large table will be situated near the farther side of the salon, in the middle of the room. A mass of American Beauty roses will form the centerpiece, and at either side of the roses, a REFAREWELL TO GERMANS. Officers of Arcoa Entertain Those Who Helped Make Their Stay More Pleasant—Sail Today.

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 19.—Members of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce, who are in town, have plans for the entertainment of the officers of the German cruiser Arcoa during her five days' stay in port this week. Had a taste of real German hospitality on board tonight. The affair was informal.

There was an air of comfort in the officers' quarters. There were easy chairs around little tables, decorated with flowers and flags. A few tubs of cold bottles, many boxes of good cigars, and plenty of cold meats and salads were accessories that went with the farewell respects paid during the trek.

BIDES THE MEMBERS of the committee were a few prominent members of the German societies of Los Angeles, who contributed much to the welcome given the officers of the ship. The invited guests included Mayor Alexander, F. C. Kloster, Willis Steele, A. W. A. Wadlow, Gen. Robert Krohn, S. F. Sombro, T. E. Gibson, Lieut. H. H. Miner, Hancock Banning, Dr. W. A. Wadlow, Gen. Robert Wankowski, E. Maier, Dr. Joseph Kurtz, A. H. Koebig, W. G. Kerckhoff, Carl Leonard, Frank Wiggins, Dr. Carl Orlitzky, Robert Kastner, C. J. Rhode, Hans Sohner, Emil Oder and William A. Matern.

At 6 o'clock tomorrow morning the Arcoa will sail for San Diego, where she will remain three days before starting on the return voyage across the Pacific to her station on the Chinese coast.

HOME IS DESTROYED.

Mysterious Fire in Hollywood Late Last Night Consumes House While Family Is Absent.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19.—Special Dispatch. The home of John Lindsey, a family of four totally destroyed by fire shortly after 1 o'clock tonight. The loss is about $4000, partially covered by insurance.

The family was attending a card party in another part of town when the fire broke out. The blaze was discovered by a neighbor, but before the alarm could be given and the fire department had responded the lower interior of the dwelling was afame and beyond saving.

The origin of the fire is a complete mystery. The Lindsey family assert that there was no fire anywhere in the house when they left and that there had been no fire during the afternoon or evening.
